

O'Clock Edition.

16 PAGES
TODAY

"FIRST IN EVERYTHING."

MADE NO SECRET OF THREE WIVES

Woman Who Says She Is Second of Trio Relates Husband's Admissions.

THOUGHT SHE WOULD FORGIVE

Man Charged With Compound Bigamy, Arrested in Kansas City, to Be Brought Back.

Wallace's Record, as Charged by Second Wife.

June 21, 1897—Married Fannie Baxter of Mansfield, O., in Jersey
City, N. J.

Oct. 27, 1902—Married Marie
McSherry of Dayton, O., in Jersey
City, N. J.

Nov. 24, 1904—Married Maud
Erskine of Glendale, Mo., in St.
Louis.

If he had returned to his first wife and her children I would never have taken this step, but it seems that he doesn't want to do justice to any one of the three women he has wronged, and I am determined that he shall receive no more money.

This is the reason Mrs. Marie M. Wallace of 296 Washington avenue gives for her prosecution of Eugene W. Wallace, formerly a special agent for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in St. Louis.

Mrs. Wallace swore out a warrant Thursday charging Wallace with bigamy, and he was arrested Thursday night in Kansas City.

Thursday morning Mrs. J. L. Laser of Mansfield, O., arrived in St. Louis with a certificate of marriage issued to Eugene W. Wallace and Fanny Baxter in Jersey City several years ago. He also married the woman who is now prosecuting him; it is charged, at Jersey City, N. J., in 1902, and his marriage to Miss Maud Erskine, formerly of Glendale, Mo., took place last Thanksgiving day, in St. Louis, it is charged.

The present whereabouts of the third wife is unknown and it is not known here whether she knows of Wallace's two previous engagements.

Mrs. Marie Wallace is 28 years old and was stylishly dressed when she visited Circuit Attorney Sager, and maintained a perfect composure while she recited her reasons for prosecution.

"The man seemed to have had a craze to marry," she said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I slept with him against the wishes of my parents. Afterward he told me he had been divorced. Not so very long ago I discovered that he had been trying to get a divorce from his first wife after he went through a wedding ceremony with me. I found that out from a letter which came into my hands from his lawyer.

Did Not Fear Exposure.

"He took me out to breakfast the day before Thanksgiving, and said he was going out of the city. That night he did not come home, and the next day a friend brought me a telegram in which a notice appeared of a marriage license issued to Eugene W. Wallace and Maud Erskine, both giving their residence as Glendale, Mo.

He wasn't disturbed when I told him I knew of his third marriage, in fact, he took no pains to conceal it. I then married by a minister on Washington avenue, the neighborhood of Washavender, on the same date, and within ten blocks of where I was living at the time.

Wallace was married to Fannie Baxter in 1902, and she is his real wife. They lived at Akron, Mansfield, Ohio, and then went to New York, where he returned to Akron, and there they separated.

"One day a few weeks ago I came across a letter which made me suspicious that he had never been divorced. I told him so. He had told me of his after I married him and said they were really separated. I got a divorce from a man who was concerned his action for a divorce after his marriage to me. They have a child, 7 years old.

"When I first saw him after his marriage to Maud Erskine, I told him to return to his first wife and make arrangements. He didn't want to do that at all, he didn't want to do the right thing, but he didn't.

RUSHING ANTI-TRUST BILL

Arkansas Legislature Acts on Governor's Recommendation and Expect Quick Action.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13.—The anti-trust bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator Logan and made a special order to be considered passed by a vote of 30 to 2. Senators Gray and Logan of this (Pulaski) county cast the negative vote. The bill was then transmitted to the House, where a bill of identical language had just been read. The program is to read the Senate bill twice today in the House, pass it tomorrow, and send it to the Senate.

Gov. Davis in his message said the bill must pass. It is a copy of the "King Bill," introduced in the Senate at the last session, and will die if foreign insurance companies out of Arkansas.

SEE DECLINES SECOND PLACE

Candidate for Warden Turns Up His Nose When Offered the Deputyship.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—John E. See has declined to accept the nomination as deputy warden of the penitentiary. He was a candidate for warden, but was offered second place by Gov. Folk as a balm.

BUCKLEY WINS IN CAUCUS

Declared the Republican Choice for Senator From Connecticut After First Ballot.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 13.—The Republican caucus candidate at the joint Republican caucus meeting yesterday was elected as follows on the first ballot: Buckley, 100; McLean, 71; Hill, 7; McLean, 1. Not voting, 1. Buckley was declared the nominee of the caucus.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

THE ONLY ST. LOUIS EVENING NEWSPAPER WITH THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

VOL. 57. NO. 145.

ST. LOUIS, FRIDAY EVENING, JANUARY 13, 1905.

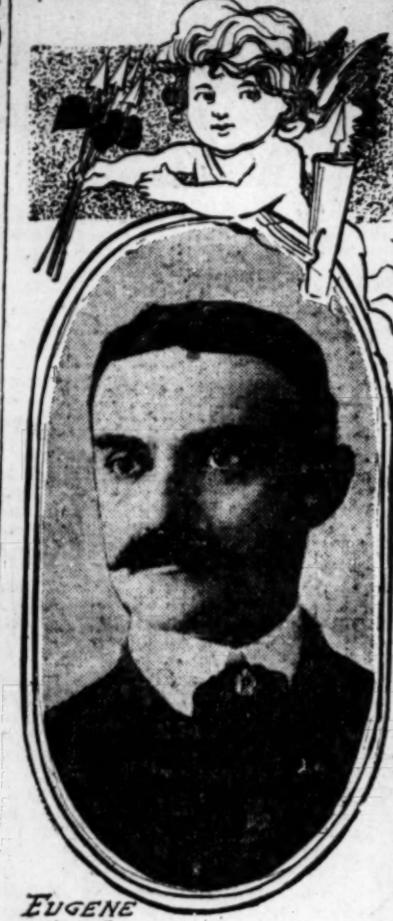

PRICE (In St. Louis, One Cent.
Outside St. Louis, Two Cents.)

7 O'CLOCK
Edition.

"FIRST IN EVERYTHING."

BOOK AGENT GETS 4-YEAR SENTENCE

EUGENE W. WALLACE,
THREE TIMES WEDDED,
SECOND WIFE DECLARES

L. G. De Vaney Found Guilty of Obtaining $2000 Worth of Books by False Pretenses.

BOOKS WERE SOLD

Woman Arrested on Another Charge Creates Scene After Husband Is Sentenced.

L. G. De Vaney, alias L. C. LaBar, was found guilty and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary Friday for obtaining $2000 worth of books under false pretenses. His wife, Mrs. Harriet E. Isle-DeVaney, was acquitted by the same jury of a like charge, and she was rearrested as she was leaving the courtroom on a charge of having passed a fraudulent check at Washington, D. C.

"There is in the case of the DeVaney's has been no hearing evidence in Judge Withrow's division of the St. Louis Circuit Court for several days. The arguments ended Thursday afternoon, and the jury was out all night and up to noon Friday before it reached a verdict.

E. Holdaway, president of the Holdaway Publishing Co., filed the information against DeVaney and his wife. He charged the man with having sold books to Mrs. DeVaney, collecting commissions and then abandoning the payments. Harper Bros., Scribner, Sons, and the George D. Barby company united with Holdaway in the prosecution. All of them testified to employing DeVaney as a book agent and suffering losses by his sales to his wife.

The books, valued at $2000, have all been recovered from the home of the DeVaney's in St. Louis County.

Detective Lynch re-arrested Mrs. DeVaney, and she was taken before Assistant Clerk of the Circuit Court.

Mrs. DeVaney told Kelly that she had cashed a check for $50 in Washington because she needed money with which to support her husband, who was accused against her here. She said she could not believe the check was worthless, and asked that her lawyer be summoned.

She was seated at the courtroom door when she was arrested, crying out that to have her husband sentenced to prison was a hardship. She had been taken to Washington on a charge of fraud too much for one woman to endure in one day.

She says she will not go to Washington without a requisition.

STEWART HEADS POLICE BOARD

Trust Company General Counsel
Succeeds W. G. Frye in Hawes' Former Position.

MARONEY ELECTION CHIEF

John F. Lee and Benjamin Schurz, members Other Members of the Board.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 13.—Gov. Folk stated to the Post-Dispatch correspondent today that he had decided to appoint A. C. Stewart, general counsel for the St. Louis Union Trust Co., president of the St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners. This position is now held by William G. Frye, who succeeded Harry B. Hawes.

Andrew C. Maroney of St. Louis, Mr. Folk's former assistant, is made president of the Board of Election Commissioners.

John F. Lee will be the other Democratic member of the election board. Benjamin Schurz, member of the board, has already been chosen to represent the Republicans on the board.

All these appointments, the governor said, would be sent to the Senate for confirmation Monday. They would have been submitted today, but the Senate adjourned before Mr. Folk had fully made up his mind.

The woman objected to the open door of the machine, but she was told that at that time she used strong language.

The woman left the car.

She was undressed and wore a long, sequined, close-fitting silk muffler, and a black hat with trimming of spangles.

There were four other women in the car, seated in the front but none of them heard out.

The woman objected that it be closed. The conductor said that at that time she used strong language.

"ADVERTISING THAT PAYS GROWS"
"ADVERTISING THAT GROWS PAYS"

GAINS

IN ADVERTISING OF ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPERS FOR

1904
OVER
1903

Post-Dispatch 2936 Columns

Globe-Democrat	1920 Columns
Star	168 "
Chronicle	156 "
Republic	63 "
Total	2307 Columns

Post-Dispatch Gain, 629
Cols. Greater than that of all other St. Louis English Newspapers Combined.

Why?
"FIRST IN EVERYTHING."

THEY'RE ALL PLANNING TO MAKE "ANTI-TIP" TUBBS REMEMBERS HIS VISIT TO ST. LOUIS

FAIR SWearer

MADE TO WALK

Then Offered to Pay for Her, but That Wasn't the Main Trouble.

"If it's a question of fare, I'll pay her fare," said men on the rear of Page Car, No. 208 Thursday afternoon at Eleventh street and Washington avenue, when the conductor requested a woman of gentle appearance to leave the car.

"It's not a question of fare," replied the conductor. "She's above ladies."

The woman left the car.

She was undressed and wore a long, sequined, close-fitting silk muffler, and a black hat with trimming of spangles.

There were four other women in the car, seated in the front but none of them heard out.

The woman objected that it be closed. The conductor said that at that time she used strong language.

MACHINE HARMLESS; PROOF--CUT THUMB

Attorney Gets Hurt Trying to Prove That Ice Cutter Couldn't Injure Anybody.

W. R. Gentry, an attorney, is caring for a thumb which was injured by coming in contact with an ice-cutting machine which had been taken into court to demonstrate its harmlessness.

His injury is similar to the one received by Mr. Gentry when he brought the suit, which necessitated the presence of the machine in the courtroom.

Mr. Gentry represented the Hodderer Ice Co. in a suit for damages brought against it by Albert J. Lawrence on account of the loss of a joint of one of his fingers in the ice machine. It was tried in division No. 5 of the Circuit court before Judge Cronin's court, where a judgment for $500 was obtained. A verdict for $250 was announced before Judge Folger.

The ice-cutting machine occupied a good deal of space in the courtroom and when Mr. Gentry arose to begin his argument he tripped over something and fell against the machine. His thumb came into contact with the knife which had cut Lawrence.

The leaders of the two forces differ as much in physical appearance as they do in the "tipping" question. The one is big, smooth-shaven, and comfortable. Dr. Tubbs is rather small, wears a mustache and an anchor hat, and he confesses to friends that now and then he suffers somewhat from insomnia.

Mr. Gentry presented his credentials as a reporter and asked for an interview.

Dr. Tubbs consented pleasantly. This is the conversation which resulted:

Below Zero" IS SURE TONIGHT

The first below-zero weather of the season for St. Louis is predicted for tonight.

The expectation of the official forecaster is that the temperature will go to three degrees below the nothing mark. The forecast is:

"Fair tonight and Saturday; colder tonight, with a minimum temperature below zero; fresh northwest winds."

The greater part of the country is in the grip of zero weather.

The freezing line extends as far south as Corpus Christi, Tex., on the gulf coast.

Wiseman: What class of hotels and restaurants have you been in the habit of patronizing?

Dr. Tubbs: Good hotels of medium price.

Wiseman: You have not, then, been accustomed to first-class service, such as is given in high-price cafes and hotels?

Dr. Tubbs: No, I don't; and I don't want anything to do with them.

Wiseman: Have you any favorite dish which you call for when dining?

Dr. Tubbs: No; all I want is a good, simple meal.

Wiseman: In your experience, have you found it necessary to tip the waiters who served you?

Dr. Tubbs: No, sir; I pay my bill at the office and that is enough.

Wiseman: It is currently reported that you do tip the waiter who serves you; is this a fact?

Dr. Tubbs: No; it is not.

Wiseman: Have you ever noticed guests
at your table tip the waiter?

Dr. Tubbs: Yes, on several occasions.

Wiseman: Did you observe that any more attention was paid, or better service was given, to those guests who tipped than to those who did not?

Dr. Tubbs: Well, I can't say that I did.

The fact is, I try to avoid tipping as much as possible.

Wiseman: Have you ever noticed guests
at your table tip the waiter?

Dr. Tubbs: Yes, on several occasions.

Wiseman: What is the real purpose of tips?

Dr. Tubbs: It is to cut out this pernicious tipping system. Everywhere I go

I find waiters who are continuing on page two.

NIEDRINGHAUS FIRST WITNESS ON FUND CHARGE

Republican Senatorial Nominee Appears Before House Committee and Promises Statement in Reply to Grace

BUSINESS MEN REBUKE KINEALY

North St. Louis Association Takes Unanimous Stand for Breeders' Law Repeal.

LIVE IN HIS DISTRICT.

Attorney Who Offered Resolution
Says Gambling Is Bane of Fair Grounds Neighborhood.

Business men of North St. Louis, many of them residing in the Thirty-fourth senatorial district, officially rebuked Senator William B. Kinealy's stand against the repeal of the breeders' law, by passing the following resolution Thursday night at the monthly meeting of the North End Business Men's Association:

"Resolved: That the members of the Legislature representing North St. Louis be requested to vote for the repeal of the breeders' law and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to each member, to the presiding officers in the Senate and House, and the chairmen of the committees having the bill in charge."

The resolution was introduced by Attorney Phil Sheridan and was passed unanimously.

The meeting was held in the association hall at Twenty-ninth and Locust streets—in Senator Kinealy's senatorial district—and many of his constituents voted for the resolution.

"The North St. Louis Business Men's Association," said Mr. Sheridan, "is composed of retail dealers of the North Side, the membership being about 700.

Resolution Unanimous.

The resolution was unanimously passed, for it has long been evident that the present influence of the Fair Grounds track is detrimental to business interests in that part of the city.

"Valuation of property adjacent to the Fair Grounds has decreased since the breeders' law went into effect and property in that neighborhood remains undeveloped."

"As long as these conditions exist they will obstruct the development of the North Side, and the conditions at the Fair Grounds are a menace to the health of the people living near there."

The breeders' law had been a political scandal since its inception, and it was well known that those politicians and even legislators who have been favorable to the law and to the racing interests had held fast positions during the racing season."

WEST END MERCHANTS DENOUNCE BREEDERS' LAW

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 13.—When the Senate met today a petition from the West End Business Men's Association of St. Louis, denouncing the breeders' law as "A breeders' monopoly and thieves," was read and filed.

The text of the petition is as follows:

To the Honorable President and Members of the Senate, Gentlemen—

Whereas, the expressed purpose of the so-called breeders' law, has been to encourage and stimulate the breeding of fine stock, and whereas experience has demonstrated that, in its present form, the actual result has been the breeding of embezzlers, thieves and other manner of criminals, together with the well-known and inevitable sufferings and sorrows attendant upon the criminal acts of such offenders, and

Whereas, this law, in its intent and manner cry out against the terrible demoralization wrought among our men, women and youths by this injurious measure, a demoralization that is rapidly destroying the sturdy manhood and glorious womanhood of our country, be it,

"Received that we, the members of the undersigned West End Business Men's Association of St. Louis do hereby declare ourselves unreservedly opposed to the continuation of this nefarious and crime-breeding law, and do respectfully petition you to repeal the same."

Respectfully, WEST END BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

By CHARLES F. ZIEBOLD, president.
Attest ED. M. WOLFF, Secretary.

The Methodists of St. Louis also passed a strong resolution against the "gambling statute." It was signed by W. F. McMurry, J. H. Young and Arthur Mathew.

To Curb Teachers' Whips.

Representative Walmsley of Jackson County presented a bill today to prohibit corporal punishment in the public schools. Every teacher guilty of whipping a pupil shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $25. The bill, introduced by Rep. Walmsley says there are no children whipped in the Kansas City Schools and if the rule is a good one there it should prove all right in other parts of the state.

Sunday Baseball Bill.

Representative Blair of Caldwell submitted the usual Sunday baseball and football bill. The offense is denounced as a misdemeanor.

At noon the House and Senate adjourned until Monday.

COUGH and COLD CURED

Mrs. Francis Ramsey, Uniontown, Pa., pronounces Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the best Cough Medicine.

"The celebrated Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup which I have used for over 20 years, is undoubtedly the best medicine, because one 25 cent bottle always cures me of the worst cough or sore throat. I recommend it to every one coming into our place of business suffering from cough, cold or throat and lung trouble." Mrs. Francis Ramsey.

ALL SUFFERERS WILL FIND

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

A perfectly safe and sure remedy for curing any case of throat and lung trouble. It never fails to cure, no matter how severe the case may be.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

The druggist's substitutes for white pine mixture is not as good as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Ask for and insist on having only Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and you will positively run no danger of getting pneumonia and consumption; for it always cures. Sold by all druggists. Price, 25cts., 50cts. and $1.00. A. C. Meyer & Co., Baltimore, Md.

NIEDRINGHAUS FIRST WITNESS OF FUND CHARGE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.

ive session, and remained before the committee 20 minutes.

Subsequent witness issued for Thomas K. Niedringhaus, Thos. J. Atkins, national committee man; E. C. Brokmeyer, editor of the "Daily Worker"; and Alphonse Busch.

The committee then adjourned to 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

FOLK SAYS INQUIRY MUST BE COMPLETED.

(Copyright, 1905, by the Press Publishing Co.)

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 13.—Gov. Folk declared this afternoon that investigation into the campaign assessments and other matters connected with the recent campaign must proceed regardless of consequences on the Republican or Democratic parties.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the police. Such information, he thinks, will strike at the root of campaign evils.

The friends of the new administration charge that the inquiry now progressing at St. Louis is the work of Democratic maplets. Judge W. N. Evans, chairman of the Democratic state committee, terms the investigation as a farcical proceeding.

At the joint caucus of House and Senate Democrats behind closed doors last night, former Speaker James H. Whitecotton of Monroe, Democratic leader in the House, applied even stronger words of condemnation.

"The honor of the state," said the governor, "is involved and the public is entitled to know all the facts."

It is understood Gov. Folk will send a message to the Legislature on the subject Monday. This message, according to current report, will ask the Assembly to make the investigation now proceeding at St. Louis thorough.

Gov. Folk wants the investigation to include all contracts made by Federal office holders and the

MEN HELPED BY WOMEN'S CLUBS

Women Tell Why the Home Is Even Paramount to the Club.

BOTH HAVE PLEASURES

Clubs Have Broadened Woman-kind, but Have Not Changed Her Real Domestic Nature.

Domesticity developed to the mental development point is worrying the club women of New York, and, as club movements progress in circles, the worry has touched St. Louis.

In the metropolis it has been declared that American women permit themselves to become overzealous in discharging their duties to their families. This sounds like a discovery to one who has read of the American woman's domesticity in the newspapers, but as the New York statement has the strength of owing its origin to a woman, Mrs. John H. Judge, who has studied the situation carefully, it is entitled to belief.

Mrs. Judge weakens her argument, however, by adding that she owes everything that makes life desirable to club life.

St. Louis club women, seldom radical, take no such pronounced view. They evince little dread of the overdomesticity, but stand ready to defend the clubwoman upon whom this position, in regard to home life, will bring many attacks.

St. Louis club women have no outspoken desire to "club" all the women of the country, but they are sure of the advantages clubs have given women, speaking always from the standpoint of the club that is organized for some form of mental advancement and not taking into consideration the social organizations.

Two Interesting Facts.

Two interesting facts were brought to light in the making of inquiry in the matter: Club life for women has lessened their novel reading. The number of women who prefer lectures to receptions and other forms of social amusements is increasing. But personal opinions are interesting. Note those that follow:

Mrs. Dwight Treadway, vice-president of the Wednesday Club: "Our hope is to be allround women. We care not for extremes in anything. We want to be average. Club life does not interfere with good housekeeping or good home life. It is evident that the women who spoke in the New York discussion were of the opinion that their sex had been 'kept under.' We think that club life adds to the life of a woman, and that it adds interest from which merely a home existence might deprive her."

Miss Marion Clark, who has been a club woman, but is at present not identified with any organization: "The proper solution of the problem is to have clubs that will give men and women separate fields. Working with separate ends and in different fields is not well. There should be no competition between the two sexes, and then club life would not have a tendency to lead away from the home. In turn the home would receive the necessary broadening. Women and men working together in the same clubs is but the educational plan so successfully used in our schools."

Mrs. E. W. Pattison of the Wednesday Club: "Membership of women in clubs, especially in clubs where men are not yet interfered with their duties as wives, mothers or housekeepers. Mental development does not interfere with domesticity."

Play for the Sister.

Mrs. W. R. MacFarlane of the Tuesday Club, the National Century Art Club and the Wednesday Club, East St. Louis: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." The same truth applies to his sister. We clubwomen are changing our views about amusement. Personally I would rather go to the lecture hall or reception or the theater. I'd rather read a book of essays than a novel. It's the hardest part for me to read a novel through, it was not always a pleasure to me from the library with the intention of reading it, but I seldom do.

"When I joined the club work I was in the habit of reading all the latest novels. Membership in a club necessitated the reading of books. The usual books I was always read first and in three or four months the novel habit was gone. Other women have done the same thing. If novel reading is a sin of the domestic woman club life is taking that away.

"Knowledge that is coming to women in their club life is something that who thought they knew the minds of women well. Stereotyped views of Greek art were given out in the club when I was a member. Our club had been making a study of Greek art and I had read carefully the book on the subject. The pictures were shown I watched them closely but did not fit my ideas of the Greek architecture of the Acropolis according to the lighting I had seen from another source on the subject. Each time the picture didn't agree I remarked about it to my neighbor.

"One woman who sat near laughed each time. I supposed that she was amused at my remarks and so I was presented to her later. This was the reason for her laughter. When the pictures were projected it was found that some were substituted. I had picked out all the substitutes. Some of the New York women had the same trouble with women before the days of clubs. We insist that there were more clubs than there were then. Home duties should come before clubs, and they usually do in most women's minds. That isn't hurtful to a club. The reason that I left the club was that it conflicted with my clubs. The clubs would have to go first, necessarily as their pleasure is."

Some Knox brand of shoes, handled exclusively at Boehmer's, have been deeply cut in price. Better see the styles in the windows. 410 North Broadway.

To Collect Debt Through Will.

The will of Mrs. Mary J. Switzer, filed Thursday in the Circuit court, provided for the collection of an obligation by her daughter, Eugenia, from her son, Charles, as told in late editions of the Post-Dispatch. Charles Switzer has taken advantage of the fact that the bulk of his share of the $200,000 estate is left in trust to his sister, Eugenia, who is to receive payment of the debt when she reaches the age of 21, the remainder to go to Charles. The will provides that in case it is contested by an heir, that one shall forfeit his share.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes. First in everything.

35-Foot Fall Causes Death.

An inquest was held on the death of Joseph J. Eacus, aged 61, of 1865 Tower Grove avenue, which occurred at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He fell from a height of 35 feet from the roof of his house while he was cleaning off the snow. Eacus slipped and fell a distance of 35 feet. No report of the inquest has been made to the police until Thursday night.

There is no reason under the sun why every sensible man should not buy his shoes at Boehmer's. Largest variety, lowest prices. Right now great cut in most card-lines.

YOUTH'S INSANITY LAID TO HAZING DEPOSE C. W. MORSE

Student at Michigan Agricultural School Dies a Maniac and Father Makes Charges.

LTONS, Mich., Jan. 13.—Henry Jackson, son of a well-to-do farmer living near here, died a raving maniac 48 hours after his return from the State Agricultural College at Lansing, where he was taking a year course in horticulture. Monday, he was brought home under guard a mere wreck and the father declares that his son was either insane as a result of having or of having been hypnotized, and he prays for a trial.

It is said that some days ago the regular college students made a group of the upper class of the school, including derivative names after them and continuing their hazing until President Snyder ordered them to stop.

Before the grandjury today, Edgar L.

BANK DIRECTORS LAID TO HAZING DEPOSE C. W. MORSE

Central Figure in Dodge-Morse Case Loses Official Position—Seeking Source of Funds.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Charles W. Morse was not re-elected a vice-president of the National Bank of America at the annual meeting of the directors. This fact has caused a great deal of comment in banking circles, because of the prominent part Mr. Morse has heretofore played in the affairs of the bank.

Bankers generally do not believe that Mr. Morse failed to retain his position.

Don't forget to visit Boehmer's basement, Regaline saloon in men's shoes. New styles, standard lines. Cut for clearance sale at Boehmer's, 410 North Broadway.

Furman and John T. Little, attorneys who represented Mrs. Morse in her suit for annulment of her first marriage, were prominent figures in the grandjury room. It is said that they were questioned as to the source of the money for Mrs. Morse's legal fight. Several bankers were also witnesses.

Just the shoes to outfit around in the snow—bow, bow, bow, cuff, unified socks, sizes 12 to 2, always sold at $1.50, now reduced to $1.25. At Boehmer's, 410 North Broadway.

Insurance Agent Sues for Salary.

WILLIAM H. KELLY, insurance agent, has filed suit against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for $50,000. The plaintiff alleges he was employed as manager of the company's business in North St. Louis at a stipulated salary and commission and was later terminated without cause.

He alleged the company refused to pay him.

He says the business in North St. Louis now amounts to $167,500 as result of his work.

Don't forget to visit Boehmer's basement, Regaline saloon in men's shoes. New styles, standard lines. Cut for clearance sale at Boehmer's, 410 North Broadway.

HEPBURN FOILS A DEMOCRATIC PLOT

Minority's Plan to Steal Glory in Railroad Rate Hearing, Goes Down Under Ruling.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Six Democratic members of the committee on interstate commerce came perilously near grabbing all the plums of the tree at yesterday's session. The Democrats had a full attendance and were in the majority by two members. Mr. Davy of Louisiana moved that hearings be closed on Jan. 23 and that the committee report a bill to the house on the 24th. The Democrats all favored this proposition and were prepared to vote for it.

The Republican members, fearing that the Democrats would gain credit for fore-ing a bill out of committee, sent messengers scurrying about the committee room in hopes of finding a couple more Republican members to defeat the proposition.

Chairman Hepburn, however, and members of the committee engaged in a discussion of the proposition until it was quieted when Mr. Hepburn ruled that the matter which was to close the hearings was a matter which could be heard in executive session, and without calling for a vote, he adjourned the committee until this afternoon.

An endless variety of children's slippers, various sizes and various colors, always sold at $1.50 and $1.25, now marked $1. At Boehmer's, 410 North Broadway.

BROOKLYN BRIDGE WEAKENING

Engineers Decide Rebuilding of Structure Is Necessary in the Near Future.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Fearing lest the strain to which the Brooklyn bridge is being subjected will weaken it to such an extent that it cannot be repaired if possible, engineers of the department of bridges are reported to have determined that the structure must be almost completely rebuilt.

To do this will require at least two years, and the cost will be between New York and Brooklyn will have to be diverted to the Williamsburg bridge, the Manhattan bridge and to the Brooklyn subway tunnel. Now, however, of course, before the work can be started.

CARTERS

Genuine Must Bear

Fad-Simile Signature

Great Seal

THE GLOBE'S FIERY FLASH! A CRASH! THAT WILL STARTLE ALL ST. LOUIS!

Men's and Young Men's $10, $12 and $15 Fine Suits and Overcoats

Beginning tomorrow at 8 A. M. and ending at 10 P. M. the Globe offers the most remarkable clothing opportunity on record. 2000 all-wool, up-to-date suits and overcoats, comprising genteel black and fancy cheviot and worsted suits, also black and fancy mixture overcoats, with or without belted back, garments the fit and finish of which is absolutely perfect and correct (good enough for a lord), garments that have sold through the entire season for $10, $12 and even $15. Your absolute choice of 50 styles.

French Montagnac Overcoats, the $35 kind reduced from $25 to $17.50. $13.50 Tomorrow for $25 Baltimore Tailor-Made Suits and Overcoats

All Worsted Pants
200 pairs for men and young men tomorrow, the regular $5.00 grade. 2.50

2.40 for 3.50 "Walkover" Shoes!
Men's 3.50 and 4.00 "Walkover" Shoes in patent leather, vici kid, velour and box calf, single and double soles, goodyear welts, all sizes, Saturday. 2.40

Ladies' 3.50 and $4 Shoes, 2.59
Ladies' 3.50 and 4.00 Lace Shoes, in patent leather and fine vici kid, 3-4 foxing, single and double soles, all sizes and widths, Saturday. 2.59

1.50 for Men's 2.50 Hats
All the up-to-date shapes and colors of MEN'S SOFT AND STIFF HATS that have been selling regularly at 2.50 are offered at the enticing price of... 1.50

65c for Men's 1.50 Soft Hats
All-Wool Kilt Toques Pull-Down Caps for boys and girls—50c kind tomorrow... 35c

69c for Men's 2.00 "Cluett" Shirts!

CLUETT SHIRTS—Best French percales or Madras—stiff bosoms—your choice of any in the house—sold everywhere at 1.50 and 2.00—here they are at...

UNDERWEAR—Derby-Ribbed Wool Shirts or Drawers—positively 1.25 value—reduced to...

HALF HOSE—Pure cashmere wool—fancy striped—positively 35c value—reduced to...

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED!

OPEN SATURDAY NIGHT TILL 10!

CLOTHING KEPT IN REPAIR FREE!

ST. LOUIS GREATEST CLOTHING STORE Globe
7TH & FRANKLIN AVE.

WE GIVE BLUE TRADING STAMPS.

Sale of Boys' 4.00 and 5.00 Suits and Overcoats, 2.50

The Banner Boys' Clothing Event of the Year! Choice of 500 nobby all-wool Suits or Overcoats, plain or fancy mixtures, that have been selling right along for 4.00 and even up to 5.00.

PARENTS! it's like finding 2.50 in the street to come and look at this wonderful lot of fine suits and overcoats for...

2.50

1.00 for Boys' 2.50 Reefs.

About 500 Chinchilla Reefs, with either velvet or storm collar, worth up to 2.50; sizes 3 to 8; while they last, choice...

1.00

1.25 for Boys' 3.50 Reefs.

Good, warm Chinchilla, with either storm or velvet collar. Soundly made and trimmed. Choice of three 3.50. Costs, sizes 6 to 16...

1.25 Boys' All-Wool Flannel Waists—50c kind—tomorrow... 39c

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Telephone and Telegraph Co. will be held on the 10th floor of the Century Building, downtown, on Feb. 1, 1905. The place of election of directors will be the office of the president, 10th floor, 10th and Olive streets. Notice is given that the persons elected will be entitled to the same rights and powers as may properly come before them.

J. L. LINTON, READER, Secretary.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Publishing Co. will be held at the office of the company, 1212 North Broadway, in the city of St. Louis, Mo., on the 10th day of February, 1905, for the purpose of electing a board of directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before them.

E. L. HOLMAN, Secretary.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Publishing Co. for the election of directors for the ensuing year will be held at the office of the company, 1212 North Broadway, in the city of St. Louis, Mo., on the 10th day of February, 1905, at 10 a. m.

JOHN J. BREWER, President.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Publishing Co. for the election of directors for the ensuing year will be held at the office of the company, 1212 North Broadway, in the city of St. Louis, Mo., on the 10th day of February, 1905, at 10 a. m.

C. G. RENNIGHAUS, Secretary.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4, 1905.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Publishing Co. for the election of directors for the ensuing year will be held at the office of the company, 1212 North Broadway, in the city of St. Louis, Mo., on the 10th day of February, 1905, at 10 a. m.

JOHN J. BREWER, President.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Publishing Co. for the election of directors for the ensuing year will be held at the office of the company, 1212 North Broadway, in the city of St. Louis, Mo., on the 10th day of February, 1905, at 10 a. m.

C. G. RENNIGHAUS, Secretary.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4, 1905.

WEAK MEN!

STRENGA

Strenga Apparatus

Strength of Body or Brain

SCORNED WOMAN SUES AS WIFE

Carrie Swain Demands Share in Gardner Millions, Asserting Prior Rights to Wife.

SUIT INTERESTS ALL PARIS

Former Actress Lost Allowance by Accosting Her Successor in Man's Affections on Street.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Cable address, "Paris," Press Publishing Co.)
PARIS, Jan. 12.—Carrie Swain, a former actress, vs. Frank L. Gardner, an American millionaire and owner of race horses, is the cause celebre here today. Maire Labri, who defended Capt. Dreyfus, is the woman's lawyer.

It is understood that one purpose of the suit is to have an accounting of some business enterprises in which the plaintiff and defendant were engaged in Australia years ago. Incidentally, the ex-actress asserts that Mr. Gardner married her in San Francisco in 1892.

In 1892 Gardner met Mrs. Legley and fell in love with her. She reciprocated. She was a Miss Brouillet, daughter of the late Leopold Brouillet, and niece of Mrs. de Bruyeres of Paris. She got a divorce and in February, 1902, she and Mr. Gardner were married in St. George's church, Hanover Square, London.

Gardner, it appears, promised verbally to allow the former Mrs. Gardner $1000 a month while wife and husband. But the two women met in Paris and Carrie Swain, in passing her, blessed insults in her wife's ear. Mrs. Gardner went home disgruntled.

When Mr. Gardner learned of this he promptly stopped Carrie Swain's allowance. Gardner, however, asserted that he had no right to bring suit against Gardner, who said he would permit her to get a divorce in America for herself if she so desired. Now she seeks to establish the validity of their marriage, which he denies. Alternatively, she demands a decree of annulment or a mouth. She cannot produce her marriage certificate, which she says Gardner destroyed "to remove evidence."

OLD COMMON SENSE

Change Food When You Feel Out of Sorts.

"A great deal depends upon yourself and the kind of food you eat," the wise old doctor said to a man who came to him sick with stomach trouble and sick headache once or twice a week, and who had been taking pills and different medicines for three or four years.

He was induced to stop eating up sort of fried food or meat for breakfast, and was put on Grape-Nuts and cream, leaving out all medicine.

A few days he began to get better, and now he has entirely recovered and writes that he is in better health than he has been before in twenty years. This man is 55 years old and says he feels "like a new man all the time." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," found in each pkg.

FORTY GRANDCHILDREN STREWED FLOWERS AT THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. FRANK HUNLETH.

High Mass and Repetition of Marriage Ceremony Marked the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunleth.

Forty grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunleth of 718 Water street will strew flowers in the path of their grandparents at the celebration of their golden wedding at St. Boniface's Church Saturday morning.

The ceremony was solemnized by high mass and a repetition of the marriage ceremony which 50 years ago made them man and wife in St. Mary's Church at Third street and Lombard avenue. A granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Cates, acted as bridesmaid, and a grandson, Joseph F. Hunleth, was groomsman. Rev. Father Herman Niers, assisted by Rev. Fathers Kortenbach, Winkelman and Haecele, all of St. Boniface's parish officiated.

After the ceremony reception, which continued through the afternoon and evening, was held at the home of the bridegroom, Frank J. Hunleth of Robert and Michigan avenues.

Mr. Hunleth was born in House-Darmstadt 25 years ago. His wife, Elizabeth, was born in Reichenbach, Baden, 23 years ago.

Seven children were born to them. Five of these are still living. They are Frank J. Gustavus J. and Charles C. Hunleth and Mrs. Mary Cates, all living in St. Louis.

LITIGANTS SEEK $1,740,000.

Montana Ore Purchasing Company Defendants in Suit Over the Dewitt Mine Product.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 12.—Two complaints against the Montana Ore Purchasing Co. and associated interests have been filed in the Federal court here by the Butte & Homestake Co. for $1,740,000. The complainants claim a four-fifths interest in ore extracted from the mine of the Dewitt Mine by the Ore Purchasing company.

MEXICO NEEDS FIFTEEN HOURS NEARBY. DOUBLE DAILY THROUGH SERVICES. IRON MOUNTAIN RAILWAY CITY TICKET OFFICE SIXTH AND OLIVE ST.

To Give Euchre Party.

An euchre party will be given Jan. 16 at 2:30 o'clock at Loebig's Hall, Geyer and Broadway, for the benefit of St. Vincent's Church. Handsome prizes will be awarded.

DEATH CUTS SHOT ROMANCE

Grim Reaper Overtakes Groom-to-Be While Intended Bride Prepares Trousseau.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Death has ended the romance of pretty Beatrice H. Steele of Brooklyn. Her fiance, Frank C. Johnson, a corporal in the Twenty-ninth Infantry, died Saturday morning, Jan. 10, in England, making ready her trousseau.

About a year ago she became engaged to marry Johnson. When, last June, he was ordered to go to Manila to build a street railway for the employers, it was arranged with Miss Steele that he should return to the States in time for their wedding. The wedding was to have taken place in that city, but Johnson's overwork and illness forced him to remain in Manila fighting manfully, a letter to friends at home saying, "I am doing all I can to beat the disease, and am trying to take in the pure air of New Mexico."

The young man died at Fort Bayard, New Mexico, and his last word was a message of love to Miss Steele.

COURTSHIP LIE NOT CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

Brooklyn Justice, in Denying Application, Says Such Plea Would Crowd Calendar.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Repentance at leisure will be the portion of Beatrice, the wife of Seymour T. Wood, who has failed in her effort to have her hasty marriage annulled.

In his decision denying the woman's application Justice Dickey of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn makes it clear that lying on the part of an ardent wooer does not vitiate the marital standing he may be able to gain by skillful and successful perseverance of fact. The justice says:

"This plaintiff met the defendant on shipboard, on the way to England, became acquainted with him, and in four days was engaged to be married and actually married the defendant, the day after they arrived in England. She lived with him from Jan. 6 to March 11 as his wife. She now applies for a decree of annulment of the marriage because she says that he falsely represented to her that he was State Attorney General of New Jersey and his father was a general in the United States Army."

"In view of the fact that she approached the young woman like a normal semi-conscious condition and after she was taken into the building was propped up in a chair, she could not be expected to fully recover. Food has been offered to her several times, but she always awoke

DEATH ENDS LONG PUZZLING SLEEP

Cora Sanders, Whose Mysterious Case Has Baffled Physicians, Dies at Springfield.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 13.—Maintaining to the last the silence of two months and scarcely stirring from the stupor that robbed her of her senses, Cora Sanders, the young sleeper whose condition had puzzled medical men throughout the state, died yesterday of starvation.

Cora Sanders' condition has been one of the most singular in the history of medical science. About the middle of last November she was placed in the county jail because it was believed that she was losing her mind. Then she became violent and was removed to the county poor farm.

She was often in the infirmary, where she reached the young woman like a normal semi-conscious condition and after she was taken into the building was propped up in a chair, she could not be expected to fully recover. Food has been offered to her several times, but she always awoke

Some of the most prominent medical men of the state visited the woman, but could devise no remedy. The case was a mystery, the eyes, which were instantly closed after the operation, did not open again. The body was emaciated and skinless, and the bones protruded. The supposition is that she starved to death.

If all bring during courtship was a legal reason for an annulment of marriage, our calendars would be crowded with cases."

Judgment for defendant.

Carpenter Killed by Train.

LUDWIG BOHN, aged 39, a carpenter living in a small house at the corner of Perry street, was run over and instantly killed by a switch engine of the Terminal Railroad, which was running on the tracks at Second street, near Bremen avenue, at 3:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The body was slightly mangled and took a long time to recognize.

The switch engine was approaching the track on which the man was walking when he slipped as he tried to step from the platform to the sidewalk. He was a child in Grand Haven, Mich., from whom he has been separated for several years.

CATARACH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, but Safe and Effective Cure for It.

Catarach of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general play-out, languid feeling.

There is often foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarach condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Peptin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not being a prescription can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after each meal.

The car was stopped by four men at the power house, near the Nadeau vineyard on the south side of town. The date coincides with that on which Rosie Taylor was in Oxnard. The robbers fled after shooting and were one of them wounded.

The woman says "Three-Fingered Jack," told her nothing about it.

The pretty, dark-haired, girlish-looking prisoner's story of her meeting and association with "Three-Fingered Jack" is not hard to believe. She married M. P. Chaves and lived happily with him on a ranch near Oxnard. She left Oxnard broken-hearted, having left him several times and was compelled to return by threats of death. She says he never hit her, but she was beaten and tormented elsewhere. The fatal shooting in San Pedro, she declares, was accidental.

Business Notice.

Beauty's charm, a main skin, secured using Sain Cream and Sain Skin Complexion Powder. 25c.

ELOPERS LOST IN COUNTY.

Albert L. Sanders and Maude Davis of St. Louis traveled 50 miles in driving from St. Louis to Clayton to be married, as the result of their driver's mistake.

He took the Old Spanish Trail and directed to Clayton, and drove along it until he reached the Missouri river before he discovered his mistake.

Then he turned back and drove into St. Louis again and inquired the way to Clayton.

As a result of their long ride the couple were married at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon instead of at noon.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

"First in everything."

Threw Trunks From Windows.

Excitement was caused among the guests of a large house in the Bronx, New York, early this morning, when a fire was discovered, which was caused by a live coal falling from a grate in the second floor, which came through the roof, filling the house with smoke and alarming the guests, who hurriedly got their baggage together and threw the trunks out of the windows before the arrival of the fire department. The fire was quickly extinguished, the loss being $250 on the building and $50 on the furnishings.

Burke's Extract of Vanilla is the standard everywhere. Sold by best grocers.

Here to Study Municipal Problems.

Major Edward Bidaman of Terre Haute, Ind., is in St. Louis to study lighting and street cleaning systems. He has found a municipal lighting plant in St. Louis, but was disappointed to learn that the only municipal lighting system in the country was that of the city of St. Louis. Major Bidaman gained some prominence owing to the fact that he rose from the position of a boy to that of the mayor's chief police officer to the mayor's chair, having been discharged from his position as policeman by the former mayor.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

"First in everything."

August Anheuser Dead.

St. Louis relatives of August Anheuser, first cousin of Mrs. Carrie Braden, received a cablegram Thursday announcing his death in Kreuznach, Germany. Mr. Anheuser was a prominent wine merchant at St. Louis, having been president of the board of trade for ten years. He was the father of August Anheuser, Jr., who married a daughter of Henry C. Miller, the well-known brewer. He was 60 years old.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

"First in everything."

THE RISE OF ROSE

A St. Louis Department Store Romance

BY THE AUTHOR OF "MYRA."

"There is romance all about you. The lives of your neighbors are more interesting than those of kings and queens. * * * If you could but know the secrets of the men and women who jostle you in street cars, who toil at the next bench, smile at you from behind counters or sit next to you at the theater you would find their lives more thrilling than the drama on the stage."

The Rise of Rose

Is the story of a girl who began in a lowly position and climbed through her own efforts and her own abilities to a high position. Such stories have been told of boys many a time, but in this modern world girls are taking advantage of their opportunities.

An Intensely Modern Novel

It is full of business, and as it is full of life it is of necessity a story of love. All the characters are not immaculate but there is not a word or incident in the seven chapters that a mother would not read to her daughter. It has a high moral but is not a sermon—rather a good, wholesome romance with lots of interest.

You Know the People!

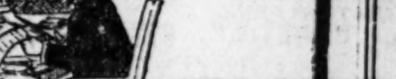

You Know the Scenes!

Read the first chapter and you will read the last. It will begin in the Post-Dispatch

Next Monday.

Best Cakes
Are Made With SQUIRREL MILK

We have offerings in the way of bonds and other securities that may interest you.

Will be pleased to send you list on application.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY TRUST
CO.
ST. LOUIS

On BURKHART'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND:

Take in the sides, back, or on the nose, blinds, etc., and apply to the face, neck, etc., and you will find it a good remedy for the above named diseases.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

"First in everything."

CZAR CHANGES HIS MINISTERS, RUMOR HAS IT

Prince Mirsky Reported to Have Left Bureau of the Interior at Monarch's Behest, in Favor of Witte or Prince Obolensky.

NICHOLAS RESOLVES HE WILL CONQUER JAPANESE.

Russian Military Party Brings Ruler to Decision, After Much Vacillation, That Peace in Face of Defeat Would Mean Ruin.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 13.—The Russian government has issued a circular to the powers charging repeated violations of Chinese neutrality and citing cases in support of the claim that the empire is powerless to fulfill its obligations. The circular concludes that Russia will be compelled to act in its own interest.

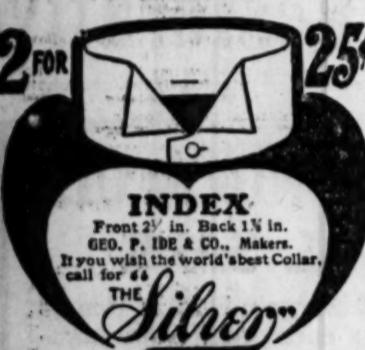

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 13.—There is an unconfirmed rumor that the Czar accepted Interior Minister Svatopluk-Mirsky's resignation yesterday, and at 11 o'clock at night appointed M. Witte, president of the committee of ministers, to succeed him. According to another version of the report, Prince Obolensky, governor-general of Finland, will succeed Prince Svatopluk-Mirsky.

The government is seemingly about to announce the irrevocable decision that peace above all else is the situation at home makes continuation of the war necessary until peace with dignity is possible.

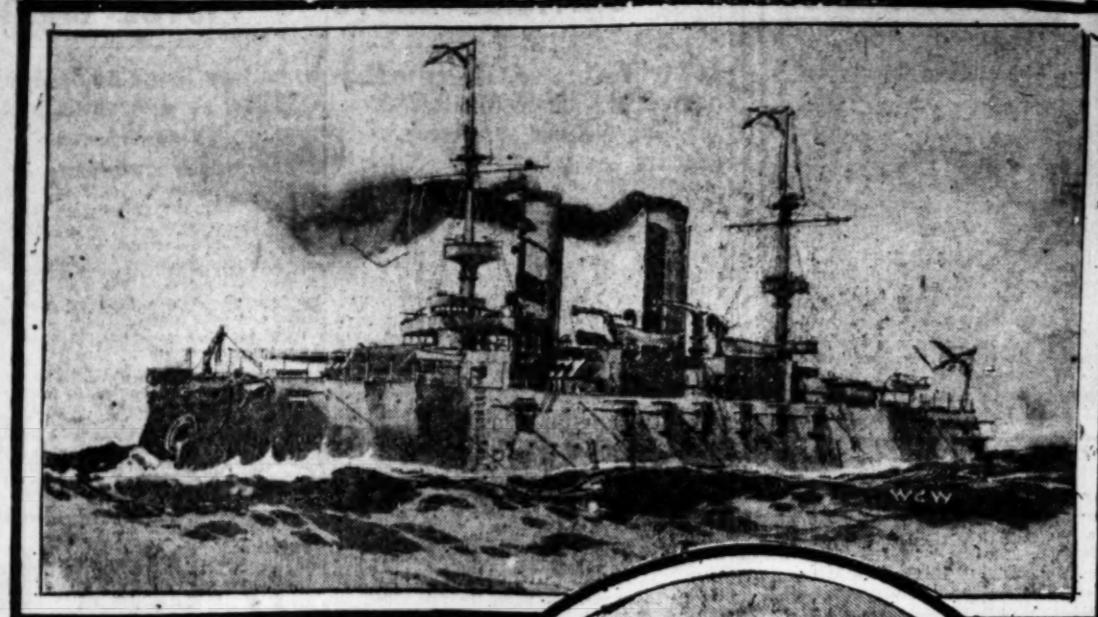

The Czar has been vacillating for many days between his desire to end the struggle in the far East and the fear that peace in the face of defeat would prove ruin.

His advisors have finally succeeded, it is said, in convincing him that he has more to fear from the latter than the former course and in bolstering up his resolution to fight at least until a decisive Russian victory makes peace overtures less humiliating than such proposals would be at the present time.

Though there are no serious disorders at present except in the Baku oil districts where a veritable revolution is raging, the authorities admit that the situation is extremely grave, and the most intense apprehension and the utmost caution is exercised by all of the higher government officials to guard against the danger of assassination.

FLAGSHIP AND COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF RUSSIA'S SECOND PACIFIC SQUADRON

"KNAZ SUVAROV-FEF"

SINGLE BLESSEDNESS CALLED IMMORALITY

Miss Vorwerk, the Young Cleveland Church Worker, So Classes It in Reiterating Statement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 13.—Miss Anna E. Vorwerk, the young Methodist church worker, who declares there is a well-founded doubt as to Adam's willingness to have parted with his rib had been consulted to his need of a helpmate, is very severe in her arraignment of bachelors.

"My views relative to Father Adam," she said, "have caused me to question it, because they even maintained they would."

It was a serious thought expressed humorously. There are about 1,100,000 more men in the world than women. That being true, every man should marry as soon as possible, and enough unmarried bachelors left to do whatever we like they are supposed to be particularly fitted for. A man worker, she said, with a wife, God certainly intended that a man should have a home.

Woman is simply another word for immorality. It does not stand for the home, and that is enough to condemn it. Girls are inclined to play with fire, I think, and the ones who do not intend to marry should not associate with a young girl."

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it homes. "First in everything."

City Buys Hospital Model. The Board of Public Health approves has purchased the plaster model of the new $1,000,000 St. Louis City Hospital, which was on exhibition in the Palace of Education and Science at the World's Fair. The model will probably be placed in the City Hall until the completion of the new hospital.

The little tots will be pleased with a pair of Boehmer's infants' soft sole shoes—all colors. Regular price 50¢; now down to 25¢ at Boehmers, 410 N. Broadway.

Fire in Military Hall. On overheated furnace caused a fire in the German Military Hall at North Avenue and Twelfth Streets. The hall, a high, damp, airy building, to the extent of $500, Charles Marquardt, the owner, occupies the second floor and his furniture was slightly damaged by water.

VICE ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY

CONGRESS QUIET AFTER THE FLURRY

Speaker Cannon and President Retire Bogies After a Mutual "Smoking Out" Party.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The extra-session tariff revision railroad-rate-legislation hurricane that was blowing so fiercely has died down today to a gentle breeze. It has died down to a gentle breeze that pleasantly fans Speaker Cannon's whiskers.

It is announced that the President has perhaps made it possible to get something in the way of legislation of this session. Everybody has decided to quit talking. If there is an extra session, it may be possible to squeeze in a little tariff legislation.

b. If there is not an extra session, there will be some tariff legislation by the Fifteenth Congress, and much, but little.

c. Everybody is happy—except Jim Tawney. He dropped out of a frying pan into another, and the heat of the buttons on his coal—said fire being the wrath of the speaker.

d. The statesmen think they may be able to get a couple of joint committees to sit this summer and investigate the tariff and decide what should be done with that. The day after the extra session, the witness reluctantly admitted that the discount clause in the National Bank bill was the main item in the package "probably that night."

Curtis said that an arrangement existed with the firm to which the $60,000 loans were to be placed to the credit of the firm as soon as the notes were discounted in the morning.

Speaker Cannon and President Retire Bogies After a Mutual "Smoking Out" Party.

Speaker Cannon has a bogie, too. His bogie is the upsetting of business by the talk of tariff revision. He took his bogie up to the White House and put it on exhibition alongside the President's extra session bogie. The result was enough, the onlookers say, to scare the taxpayers into giving him a long way off.

Mr. Cannon Exhibits Bogie. Speaker Cannon has a bogie, too. His bogie is the upsetting of business by the talk of tariff revision. He took his bogie up to the White House and put it on exhibition alongside the President's extra session bogie. The result was enough, the onlookers say, to scare the taxpayers into giving him a long way off.

Speaker Cannon has a bogie, too. His bogie is the upsetting of business by the talk of tariff revision. He took his bogie up to the White House and put it on exhibition alongside the President's extra session bogie. The result was enough, the onlookers say, to scare the taxpayers into giving him a long way off.

The President was smart about his campaign. He is naturally a tariff enthusiast—he has never been anything else, and never will be. Still, he conceded that perhaps a good many of the people who gave two million and a half plurality in the population last November might have a lingering affection for the Republican policy of protection, and he told the people with whom he talked at the famous White House conference that his tariff views would be whatever they said. He told them to go ahead with their tariff convictions in the shape of a piece of putty and told the conferees to squeeze it into any shape they liked.

Then the conferees had an imaginary split. Four of them were for tariff revision, and four were not. The first four, it is known, did not know where he was; because he wanted to send his name thundering down the same as a tariff revision. The last four, who knew he leaned toward a tariff revision, and he knew he could not do if Speaker Cannon did not agree him, did not care if he did not come along with the rest of the party, and he was leaning toward the speaker.

The speaker yielded all that is good and hot, but there must be no tariff revision. He had a poll of the Republicans in the White House, and he took, like this:

"You ain't got no right revising the tariff, ain't you?" The ring in his voice brought immediate affirmative answers from 90 per cent of the members of the House.

Bulletin of Results.

With this information in hand, the speaker strolled over to the White House and told the President what had happened.

"I told him, 'Sir, I am as clay in the potter's hands. We'll forget about tariff revision. We must not disrupt business.'

When it was announced that there would be no tariff revision before the next session of Congress, which meets in December, 1905,

After all the running around in circles, after all the jousting and excitation, here are the net results:

1. Speaker Cannon has silenced tariff revision talk. He has put it out before the country that there is to be none. His bogie of disturbed trade has been removed.

2. When it was announced that if they think Congress is not going to act right away, that is what it will do. He positively will not be frightened.

3. The President has made good his rail-road rate revision program by making his own announcement, and he has

INVESTOR BLAMES LOOMIS FOR LOSS

Standard Oil Bank's Vice-President Told Broker All Hands Would Make Money.

TAKES THE BANKER'S WORD.

After Failure, A. B. Leach Asks Mitchell to Destroy Written Pool Agreement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—One of the victims of the National City Bank, Munroe & Munroe, Montreal & Boston copper bubble, on the witness stand, told Archibald G. Loomis, second vice-president of the Standard Oil Bank, that he had been told by Mr. Loomis and how he came to become involved and lost $30,000. The bank did not lose its $30,000 daily loan, however.

The witness, W. Ellis Mitchell, a mining engineer, said that because of the representations made to him by Mr. Loomis and Arthur Leach of Farson, Leach & Co., he branched out as a broker, dealing in immense blocks of Montreal & Boston stock in partnership with Arthur Shaw, a cousin of Mr. Leach.

M. Leach, he said, told him that he was heavily interested in the Montreal & Boston syndicate, and that everybody connected with it ought to make money.

On the strength of what Mr. Loomis told him, Mr. Mitchell said he tried to get some of his Chicago friends to go into the scheme. These friends met Loomis, George Munroe and Quincy Ward Boose at the Waldorf, and Loomis told the Chicago men that the mining property was first class, and that the Munroes were fine people.

Loomis Vouched for Payment.

"Did he tell them that the properties had not been paid for?" asked Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the receiver.

"He said they were all paid for."

The next day Mitchell went to see Leach and told him he was badly stuck by Munroe's failure, the amount being between $30,000 and $35,000.

"Leach told me," said the witness, "that he was sorry and that I had his sympathy, but that he could not do anything for me. Then he asked me to bring down to his office a speculative pool agreement dated Dec. 5, two days before the failure, by which the subscribers agreed to take over my shares at $2.75 per share. He wanted me to bring the paper to him and destroy it. He said that if I took it to him, he would destroy it. He said that it was a bad business and that he could not afford to be mixed up in it."

There were two subscribers to this inner pool. George Munroe was down for 100,000 shares, and A. B. Leach for 25,000 shares.

E. D. Curtis, manager for the Munroes, was questioned at great length about a deposit of $30,000 credited to the Munroes by the Standard Oil Bank on Dec. 5. Mr. Curtis insisted that the deposit was made after 3 o'clock that afternoon.

It developed that the $30,000 was the last one of the eight "accommodations" for that amount made by the National City Bank to the Standard Oil Bank.

It developed that the $30,000 was the last one of the eight "accommodations" for that amount made by the National City Bank to the Standard Oil Bank.

It developed that on Dec. 5 the Munroes took total deposits in the National City Bank of $338,149.76. Part of this money went to pay the last load of $30,000.

Mr. Leach, he said, told him that he was heavily interested in the Montreal & Boston syndicate, and that everybody connected with it ought to make money.

On the strength of what Mr. Loomis told him, Mr. Mitchell said he tried to get some of his Chicago friends to go into the scheme. These friends met Loomis, George Munroe and Quincy Ward Boose at the Waldorf, and Loomis told the Chicago men that the mining property was first class, and that the Munroes were fine people.

Loomis Vouched for Payment.

"Did he tell them that the properties had not been paid for?" asked Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the receiver.

"He was there any collateral for these loans?" he was asked.

"We gave collateral with the first note—$30,000 shares of Montreal & Boston."

"Did you get that stock back?"

"Yes."

It developed that on Dec. 5 the Munroes took total deposits in the National City Bank of $338,149.76. Part of this money went to pay the last load of $30,000.

Mr. Leach, he said, told him that he was heavily interested in the Montreal & Boston syndicate, and that everybody connected with it ought to make money.

On the strength of what Mr. Loomis told him, Mr. Mitchell said he tried to get some of his Chicago friends to go into the scheme. These friends met Loomis, George Munroe and Quincy Ward Boose at the Waldorf, and Loomis told the Chicago men that the mining property was first class, and that the Munroes were fine people.

Loomis Vouched for Payment.

"Did he tell them that the properties had not been paid for?" asked Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the receiver.

"He was there any collateral for these loans?" he was asked.

"We gave collateral with the first note—$30,000 shares of Montreal & Boston."

"Did you get that stock back?"

"Yes."

It developed that on Dec. 5 the Munroes took total deposits in the National City Bank of $338,149.76. Part of this money went to pay the last load of $30,000.

Mr. Leach, he said, told him that he was heavily interested in the Montreal & Boston syndicate, and that everybody connected with it ought to make money.

On the strength of what Mr. Loomis told him, Mr. Mitchell said he tried to get some of his Chicago friends to go into the scheme. These friends met Loomis, George Munroe and Quincy Ward Boose at the Waldorf, and Loomis told the Chicago men that the mining property was first class, and that the Munroes were fine people.

Loomis Vouched for Payment.

"Did he tell them that the properties had not been paid for?" asked Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the receiver.

"He was there any collateral for these loans?" he was asked.

"We gave collateral with the first note—$30,000 shares of Montreal & Boston."

"Did you get that stock back?"

"Yes."

It developed that on Dec. 5 the Munroes took total deposits in the National City Bank of $338,149.76. Part of this money went to pay the last load of $30,000.

Mr. Leach, he said, told him that he was heavily interested in the Montreal & Boston syndicate, and that everybody connected with it ought to make money.

On the strength of what Mr. Loomis told him, Mr. Mitchell said he tried to get some of his Chicago friends to go into the scheme. These friends met Loomis, George Munroe and Quincy Ward Boose at the Waldorf, and Loomis told the Chicago men that the mining property was first class, and that the Munroes were fine people.

Loomis Vouched for Payment.

"Did he tell them that the properties had not been paid for?" asked Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the receiver.

"He was there any collateral for these loans?" he was asked.

"We gave collateral with the first note—$30,000 shares of Montreal & Boston."

"Did you get that stock back?"

"Yes."

It developed that on Dec. 5 the Munroes took total deposits in the National City Bank of $338,149.76. Part of this money went to pay the last load of $30,000.

Mr. Leach, he said, told him that he was heavily interested in the Montreal & Boston syndicate, and that everybody connected with it ought to make money.

VESPASIAN WARNER TO SUCCEED WARE

STOESSEL TO BEAR WEIGHT OF BLAME

Missourian Declines Pension Commissionship and Post Goes to Illinois Man.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The President has decided to appoint Congressman Vespasian Warner of the Nineteenth district of Illinois commissioner of pensions. Maj. William Warner of Kansas City had been mentioned, but he was not selected for a letter received from him by Mr. Roosevelt this morning, reading the post.

A sweeping reduction in many of our standard lines of men's shoes has been made at Boehmer's, 410 N. Broadway.

Defender of Port Arthur Himslef Hints That He Thinks Surrender Was Premature.

TOKIO, Jan. 13.—That he was the survivor of Port Arthur was premature but that he will himself bear all the blame is hinted by Gen. Stoessel in his farewell address to the troops who went through the siege with him.

"After thanking his men for their heroic service, General Stoessel said: 'I will bear all the blame for the premature fall of the city.' Gen. Stoessel is to be tried by court-martial when he reaches St. Petersburg. Though the authorities assert that the hearing will be merely formal it has created intense indignation among the people.

MAY IMPLICATE TOBACCO TRUST IN DUKE'S CASE

Friends of Prisoner Say He Will Air Charges More Sensational Than Those Made in Connection With His Marriage.

IMPRISONED MAN BROUGHT INTO SUPREME COURT.

Writ of Habeas Corpus Fails and He Is Re-Committed to Long Island Home—Will Be Examined Again on Next Thursday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Brodie L. Duke, the millionaire tobacco man, makes good the threats of his friends that the sensational feature incidental to his recent marriage to Alice Webb may pale into insignificance compared to the charges he will make when given a hearing.

According to his friends, Duke will say that his recent marriage and the period of revelry and debauchery incidental to it, as a result of which he was adjudged insane, were only a pretext seized upon by business rivals to get him out of the way.

Duke was brought before Justice Gaynor of the Supreme Court yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, and it is thought that he might make some charges, but the hearing was only a short one and nothing developed. Duke was sent to the Long Island Home, where he will stay until next Thursday when a commission appointed by the court will investigate his history in full.

According to his grandfather, the boy is about 5 feet 4 inches in height and is stocky, with a round face and dark hair. On one side of his neck there are scars resulting from a street car accident in which he was cut and gashed. When he left home he was a student in a manual training school in Kansas City.

The following statement was made to the Post-Dispatch by one intimately in touch with Mr. Duke's private and business interests:

"Mr. Duke's commitment was brought about by an amazing chain of circumstances in which his marriage to Alice Webb, and the fact that he had been caught in his weakness for dissipation, placed in the hands of his enemies opportunity for which they have sought several years. If Duke chooses it lies in his power to expose a sensational plot of which he becomes himself a victim."

It is known that the action brought by W. G. Graham is in accordance with instructions from Mr. Duke himself. The predicament in which he now finds himself was not unexpected and preparations had been made to meet it.

When W. G. Graham appeared unexpectedly on the scene Wednesday and within 24 hours had become master of the situation which paved the way for Mr. Duke's liberation, the lawyers for Alice Webb Duke and the Duke family were horrified. They admitted that they could not penetrate their opponents' moves unless they sprang from friendly impulses.

Duke's Message to Graham.

The facts in the case are that within 48 hours after his commitment to the sanitarium in Flushing, L. I., Mr. Duke succeeded in sending a message to Mr. Graham in Birmingham, S. C. It read substantially as follows:

"Come and protect my interests."

Mr. Duke regards Graham as his closest friend, and had intrusted to him knowledge of a danger which Mr. Duke believes has threatened for the past three years. The five-word message was as good as a volume to Graham, and he hurried to New York by the first train.

The belief of his friends that Mr. Duke may bring to light a sensational plot is founded on words attributed to him while he was on the train bound for Flushing. He is reported as saying to his half-brother, B. N. Duke, who was sitting near him:

"I am a little dazed now and do not know what is going on, but if I am being put into an insane asylum I will make some one smart for it."

When he was called in the Supreme Court this morning, representatives of the firm of Nicol, Annabel & Lindsay will appear as counsel for Dr. W. Stump Brown, the physician in charge of the Sanitarium, where Duke is confined. Nicol, Annabel & Lindsay are counsel for the Duke family. Mr. Nicol, Annabel H. Duke is president and Benjamin N. Duke is secretary. They are half brothers of Brodie Duke.

Duke Competitor of Brothers.

At the formation of the tobacco trust Brodie L. Duke refused to join his relatives in the consolidation. He retained his interest in several independent companies, in which he is still interested. They are active competitors of the trust.

"It is an open secret that he is his own master," Brodie L. Duke's estranged son from his family. The tobacco trust has taken active measures to absorb all tobacco companies, and industry of sufficient magnitude and power to dominate it has long been rumored that there exists in Texas lands, which if properly cultivated would yield more tobacco than the finest Havana and Sumatra growths. While the tobacco trust ridiculed these reports, Brodie L. Duke's firm believed in the value of the Texas lands. A man who shared with Brodie L. Duke the secret ambitions and plans said today:

"When Mr. Duke was approached by Alice Webb in regard to her ontology, he immediately became interested. Whatever may have been Duke's shortcomings in the manner of life, and of his weakness for scattering his fortune he was a man of great business judgment. He was convinced of the value of the Texas land for tobacco production, and entered into negotiations with Alice Webb to purchase her options.

Marriage Not Involved.

"His alleged marriage to the woman is another matter which in no way is concerned in the conspiracy in which Mr. Duke believes he is involved. On his return from Europe, Mr. Duke came to America with which to purchase the woman's options. He consulted with George W. Mallory, a lawyer who was the legal agent of Miss Webb. Four hours after his consultation with Mr. Mallory, he was arrested and taken to Bellevue Hospital. When Mr. Mallory was questioned, he called at the office of Nicol, Annabel & Lindsay, counseled for the tobacco trust." Mr. Mallory died this year.

Mr. Lindsey was not in and I saw his partners, Delancy Nicol and Cornelius C. Sullivan. They seemed to know all about the woman's options.

"These lands in Texas will never be purchased, you may as well make up your mind to that. The lands are not worth what we are asking."

Mr. Duke committed to a sanatorium.

LOST BOY IS SOUGHT BY HIS GRANDFATHER.

WEBSTER WAGNER

M'KEE'S FRIENDS CRITICISE HASTE

TO ACT AGAINST PISTOL CARRIERS

PRESIDENT'S PARTY ENDS WITH A PANIC

Grandjury Hears Evidence of Chief Kiely as to Arrests for Carrying Weapons.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—Friends of Hart McKee, the young Pittsburgh millionaire who was dismissed on day and married two days later, are now most anxious to know the haste with which McKee led to the altar the beautiful Widow Tevis in Philadelphia. McKee had given $300,000 to Mrs. McKee with the understanding that she would quietly get a divorce, and it was expressly stipulated that the testimony in her trial should not reach the newspapers. At least all precautions were taken to keep it from the public.

Mrs. McKee informed her part of the story, but McKee himself was not present.

He is a son of Frank P. Wagner of 1116 Genesee street, Kansas City, Mo. He disappeared Feb. 1, 1903, and since then his parents have not heard of him.

Shortly after his disappearance a friend of his father, a man named Wagner,

had come to him under cover for all time.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

"First in everything."

The grandjury Friday took the first steps in what is expected to be a vigorous crusade against the pistol carrier.

At the end of the preliminary, Chief Kiely submitted a report showing that during the past year 186 convictions had been secured on pistol-carrying charges. 35 similar charges were dismissed and numerous others were appealed, taken before the Juvenile and other courts, or otherwise disposed of.

It is said that the series of shootings, accidents and otherwise during the year, together with the number of highway robberies, assault and similar crimes and the like, with which drivers have fought in the past few weeks, have impressed the grandjurores with the necessity for quick and decided action against the growth of the pistol-carrying habit.

Sudden Darkness at White House Reception Alarms Guests for Safety of Valuables.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—An accident in the electric lighting system at the White House last night just as the hundreds who attended the diplomatic reception were leaving, produced considerable confusion and gave some nervous women a scare. While the cloak rooms were crowded with people, all the lights in the east entrance suddenly went out.

It was several minutes before the current was connected, and a moment later the lights went out again. After that light and darkness alternated several times before the carbons got down to incandescence.

Every time the lights went out there was a general alarm, and drivers have turned on the men had their hands on their pocketbooks and the ladies were clutching their jewels.

caused by a fuse blowing out.

Young Millionaire's Hurry to Marry Widow Tevis Spoils Well-Made Plans of Secrecy.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—Friends of Hart

McKee, the young Pittsburgh millionaire who was dismissed on day and married two days later, are now most anxious to know the haste with which McKee led to the altar the beautiful Widow Tevis in Philadelphia. McKee had given $300,000 to Mrs. McKee with the understanding that she would quietly get a divorce, and it was expressly stipulated that the testimony in her trial should not reach the newspapers. At least all precautions were taken to keep it from the public.

Mrs. McKee informed her part of the story, but McKee himself was not present.

He is a son of Frank P. Wagner of 1116 Genesee street, Kansas City, Mo.

He disappeared Feb. 1, 1903, and since then his parents have not heard of him.

Shortly after his disappearance a friend

of his father, a man named Wagner,

had come to him under cover for all time.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

"First in everything."

The grandjury Friday took the first steps in what is expected to be a vigorous crusade against the pistol carrier.

At the end of the preliminary, Chief

Kiely submitted a report showing that during the past year 186 convictions had been secured on pistol-carrying charges.

35 similar charges were dismissed and numerous others were appealed, taken before the Juvenile and other courts, or otherwise disposed of.

It is said that the series of shootings, accidents and otherwise during the year, together with the number of highway robberies, assault and similar crimes and the like, with which drivers have fought in the past few weeks, have impressed the grandjurores with the necessity for quick and decided action against the growth of the pistol-carrying habit.

These are the nerves that wear out and break.

It does no good to treat the ailing organs

of the heart—the diseased liver—the rebel-

Hona stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves

that function dead.

These are the nerves that wear out and break.

It does no good to treat the ailing organs

of the heart—the diseased liver—the rebel-

Hona stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves

that function dead.

These are the nerves that wear out and break.

It does no good to treat the ailing organs

of the heart—the diseased liver—the rebel-

Hona stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves

that function dead.

These are the nerves that wear out and break.

It does no good to treat the ailing organs

of the heart—the diseased liver—the rebel-

Hona stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves

that function dead.

These are the nerves that wear out and break.

It does no good to treat the ailing organs

of the heart—the diseased liver—the rebel-

Hona stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves

that function dead.

These are the nerves that wear out and break.

16 PAGES

PART TWO

FIRST IN EVERYTHING!

PAGES 9-16

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Great Summer Project to Benefit St. Louis.

See the Next Sunday Post-Dispatch.

PAGES 9-16

"MODEL HUSBAND"
LEFT HER, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Clara Urquhart Spencer Asks Friends to Go to Chicago as Witnesses.

SHE WANTS TO "BE FREE."

Former Choir Singer's Right to Divorce Elsewhere Than in St. Louis Questioned.

Mrs. Clara Urquhart Spencer, former well-known choir singer in St. Louis, has written to several of her closest women friends in this city, asking them to appear as her witnesses in the divorce suit which she has filed against Franklin A. Spencer, before the Supreme court in Chicago.

One of these letters was written to Mrs. Lee of 411A West Plum boulevard, who formerly lived next door to the Spencers when their home was at 414 Delmar boulevard. Mrs. Lee said she will go to Chicago, but will give her deposition in St. Louis. Mrs. Spencer's letter says:

"My Dear Friend—I have just learned that the same court that refused Mr. Spencer a divorce will grant one to me. All I desire is to be once and for all free from him and to secure this freedom in a quiet and dignified manner. I want to have three or four of my particular friends, yourself included, come to Chicago at my expense and testify in my behalf. The only reason which I shall set forth is desperation.

The letter closed with the statement that in order to save the time of her friends, she would notify them of the exact date when their testimony would be needed.

It is not known whether Mrs. Spencer, that of her husband, which alleged cruelty and manifestations of violent temper on the part of his wife, was dismissed in the same court a short time before because the plaintiff could not prove residence in Chicago.

Mrs. Spencer's friends are at a loss to understand how she will avoid the same objection. She lived in St. Louis, where she sang in the Central Presbyterian Church and other choirs, until last summer when her father died and she went to visit a relative brother in Minnesota. Her home at that time was at 414 Delmar boulevard. She came to St. Louis in December for a visit of a few days with a friend in the West End.

Why He Was Model Husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were married in St. Louis by the late Rev. J. Frank, pastor for 25 years of the Central Presbyterian church in 1889. When Dr. Frank died, Mrs. Spencer, who possesses a remarkably rich contralto voice, sang at his funeral, as he had requested.

It is said that the real separation of the Spencers occurred in January, 1903, when Mr. Spencer left home. He has called on his wife several times since then, it is said, but they have lived apart. His home is now in Peoria. He is Illinois agent for a large insurance company. Previous to his removal to St. Louis, he was principal of the high school at Carrollton, Mo.

Mrs. Spencer's St. Louis friends say she has made several efforts to secure a divorce. Once, at a time presented in a court in a county seat near Peoria; again a similar petition was filed near Chicago. Both times the court rejected the suit, it is said. On both occasions, friends of Mrs. Spencer had agreed to testify in her behalf, as he had requested.

In the Chicago petition, Spencer alleged that his wife struck and scratched him, and was otherwise cruel to him, although at the time presented in attitude of patience. He also felt that his life was in danger. Mrs. Spencer's friends say that as he was feet inches tall and Mrs. Spencer is 6' 6" inches less in stature, the charges of physical danger to him are hard to credit.

Spencer's title of "the model husband" was acquired when witnesses were produced to show that while he was at one time addicted to the use of intoxicants, his love for his wife led him to give up the habit and to reform, at the same time, under her censure with patience and meekness.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

*First in everything.CHILD FOUND AFTER 20 YEARS*Mother Finds Daughter, Lost in Crowd in New York, After Letter Grows Up.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 13.—Twenty years ago Mrs. Wm. Lewis arrived in New York from Ireland with a daughter, just old enough to walk. The little one was lost in the crowd and nothing more was heard of it.Mrs. Lewis settled in Hilton, 18 miles from here. Last week she came to this city with another daughter. In a street car they fell into conversation with a young woman, and became convinced that the stranger was the long-lost daughter. She is now with her mother.*The lost child had been reared in New York and came to Rochester a short age, though she knew nothing of her mother's whereabouts.*You Have a Lot of Things in Your Head—How did they get there? Most through your eyes. If you're saving your head, there are not profitable uses for your eyes well in the world.POST-DISPATCH WANT AD COLUMNSThey are overflowing with opportunities for the man who will grasp them. 11,247 opportunities to better one's self physically, mentally and financially were offered in the Post-Dispatch wants last week. And there were 200 more, and other St. Louis Newspaper contained.First in Everything.BULLET CLIPPED BOW OF RIBBON FROM HER HAIR.*MARY BRINGHURST*15-CENT FUSE WOULD HAVE SAVED LIFE

Inspector Testifies Absence of Device and Iron Floor Caused Death at 'Phone.

UNUSUAL WEATHER BLAMED

Verdict Was Accident—Gas Company's Attorney Said It Was Not Liable.

"In my opinion Belz would not have been killed if the telephone had been equipped with an ordinary safety fuse, such as is used by telephone companies. Neither would the accident have happened if Belz had been standing on a wooden floor."

This was the statement of William A. Barton, Inspector in the city lighting department, testifying at the inquest of Geo. Belz, who was killed by an electric current Wednesday afternoon at a station of the St. Louis Gas Co., while answering a telephone call.

Someone had thrown a stone through the glass window of the telephone booth, attracted by the noise. The bullet inflicted a slight scalp wound and knocked a bow of ribbon from her hair.

Belz said that he did not fire the shot.

He was married last week and he says that someone had been annoying him since peeling his house with stones.

BLAIR DEPOSITIONS READY FOR COURT

Special Hearing of Insurance Case in New York Completes Its Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Expert testimony on the telephone criminal was the feature of the last session of the special hearing in this city to secure depositions for the case on trial in the United States District Court in St. Louis, wherein the Mutual Life Insurance Co. seeks to evade the payment of a policy for $300,000 written on James L. Blair. The depositions taken on Friday will be read when the hearing is resumed in St. Louis.Mary Bringhurst, living at Irvington-on-Hudson, did not appear as a witness or as a spectator in the case."A criminal is not a good risk and had I known Mr. Blair was a forger, I should not have passed him," testified Dr. Simms, medical director of the Mutual Life Insurance Co."Life in the penitentiary tends to a high mortality record. A criminal's existence is one of constant strain. But, so long as a criminal thinks his crime is hidden he does not worry."*Dr. Simms added that in these days it is rare that a man is not subjected to some kind of strain.*Vice-President George E. Tarbell of the Equitable Life Assurance Co. testified that the telephone companies used them merely as a means of detecting unusual voltage.*Inspector Barton had previously testified that the induction of too strong a current in the telephone wires, such as occurred Wednesday, would cause the fuse to burn out.*Deputy Coroner Lloyd rendered a verdict of accident.*Supt. Gallagher of the gas company said that a fuse might not have prevented the accident, although he admitted that it would have been prevented.*He said that the electric light wire was triple-braided with weather proof insulation and that the insulation was being connected to the telephone wires but had been refused on the advice of the solicitor after the expose of Blair's forgeries.*MERIE BABY FORCED TO WORK*Little Tot of Eighteen Months Contributes Fifty Cents a Week to Family Income.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A baby girl of 18 months is a worker in one of New York's garment houses.This is the remarkable story which Dr. A. S. Daniels of the New York Infirmary for Women and Children, told in his address on "Illegal Sweatshop Work."The child, she said, had been brought to the infirmary by her mother, who, when the mother came to take it away, told the doctor she needed its help in her manufacturing business. The little tot rolled tiny balls in paste, to which she had attached trimmings, and so contributed 50 cents a week to the family income."KEEP THE CHANGE". JOHN HAY*Liberality of Visitor Supposed to Be Secretary of State Rejoices Long Islanders.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Frank P. Flint, succeeded Thomas R. Bard, junior United States senator from California, in the line of a promotion vouchsafed him by the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. For years Flint has been connected with the Southern Pacific law department. He was the personal choice of Wm. F. Perrin, head of the railroad's law department and dictator of the Republican state organization.When Mr. McKinley became President he appointed Flint district attorney for Southern California. Flint's term of office was soon after the death of McKinley. Senator Bard opposed Flint's reappointment, and Flint was rejected by President Roosevelt.*Word was given out that Flint should replace Bard. To the surprise of all, they fell into competition with a young woman, and became convinced that the stranger was the long-lost daughter. She is now with her mother.*The distinguished looking man, as they describe him, was most liberal with his money, of which he had plenty. Everyone who knew him, living or dead, agreed to have profited from his generosity, for every one says he said, "Keep the change."*See Flint, John Hay, Monday and Monday with his daughter, Miss Pauline Whitney, at her husband's country residence. It is known that it was the secretary who made glad the tollers of Massachusetts.*CELL DOOR OPENS FOR ESCAPER*Arrival of Bride's Father Rescues Yale Student From Pittsburgh Police Station.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 13.—John Cuneo, a Yale student, who was locked up here charged with eloping from Chicago with his bride, Papa Hill, has been restored to his rights.He reached here about midnight and had a talk with the police station, where the young husband had fumed and fretted for almost two hours. His bride, Mrs. Marcella, demanded that his son-in-law be turned loose immediately. Yale has lost another Yale student, or will soon, as his new son-in-law has gone back to Chicago.First in Everything.FLINT'S ELECTION EVENS OLD SCORE

Displaces Senator Bard, Who Once Had Him Ousted From a District Attorneyship.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Frank P. Flint, succeeded Thomas R. Bard, junior United States senator from California, in the line of a promotion vouchsafed him by the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. For years Flint has been connected with the Southern Pacific law department. He was the personal choice of Wm. F. Perrin, head of the railroad's law department and dictator of the Republican state organization.When Mr. McKinley became President he appointed Flint district attorney for Southern California. Flint's term of office was soon after the death of McKinley. Senator Bard opposed Flint's reappointment, and Flint was rejected by President Roosevelt.*Word was given out that Flint should replace Bard. To the surprise of all, they fell into competition with a young woman, and became convinced that the stranger was the long-lost daughter. She is now with her mother.*The distinguished looking man, as they describe him, was most liberal with his money, of which he had plenty. Everyone who knew him, living or dead, agreed to have profited from his generosity, for every one says he said, "Keep the change."*See Flint, John Hay, Monday and Monday with his daughter, Miss Pauline Whitney, at her husband's country residence. It is known that it was the secretary who made glad the tollers of Massachusetts.*KEEP THE CHANGE". JOHN HAY*Liberality of Visitor Supposed to Be Secretary of State Rejoices Long Islanders.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—The legislature, a dozen dummy candidates were kept in the field to hold the votes.Flint, in these candidates gracefully withdrew before the final ballot was taken. Flint was elected without opposition.*Flint, in an interview today, declared that he would support railroad legislation and tariff revision. This statement of the senator-elect was received with a smile.*BANK CALL DATE JANUARY 11*Comptroller of Currency Asks for Condition of National Institutions Wednesday Night.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for reports of the condition of national banks at the close of business on Wednesday, Jan. 11.

Cavalleria's Author Will Write Another New Opera.NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—It is announced that a new opera is to be written by Mazzani. Signor Maraditi will write the libretto, the theme being the story of Brice Cuneo.First in Everything.POST-DISPATCH WANT AD COLUMNSThey are overflowing with opportunities for the man who will grasp them. 11,247 opportunities to better one's self physically, mentally and financially were offered in the Post-Dispatch wants last week. And there were 200 more, and other St. Louis Newspaper contained.First in Everything.15-CENT FUSE WOULD HAVE SAVED LIFE

Inspector Testifies Absence of Device and Iron Floor Caused Death at 'Phone.

UNUSUAL WEATHER BLAMED

Verdict Was Accident—Gas Company's Attorney Said It Was Not Liable.

"In my opinion Belz would not have been killed if the telephone had been equipped with an ordinary safety fuse, such as is used by telephone companies. Neither would the accident have happened if Belz had been standing on a wooden floor."

This was the statement of William A. Barton, Inspector in the city lighting department, testifying at the inquest of Geo. Belz, who was killed by an electric current Wednesday afternoon at a station of the St. Louis Gas Co., while answering a telephone call.

Someone had thrown a stone through the glass window of the telephone booth, attracted by the noise. The bullet inflicted a slight scalp wound and knocked a bow of ribbon from her hair.

Belz said that he did not fire the shot.

He was married last week and he says that someone had been annoying him since peeling his house with stones.

The arrest of William Baldwin of 317 First street Thursday on a warrant charging him with assault to kill, sworn out by his neighbor, Mrs. Mary Bringhurst of 317 Plum street, has excited the neighborhood.

Mrs. Bringhurst was struck a glancing blow on her forehead by a bullet late Monday evening while standing at her window.

It is the statement of William A. Barton, Inspector in the city lighting department, testifying at the inquest of Geo. Belz, who was killed by an electric current Wednesday afternoon at a station of the St. Louis Gas Co., while answering a telephone call.

Someone had thrown a stone through the glass window of the telephone booth, attracted by the noise. The bullet inflicted a slight scalp wound and knocked a bow of ribbon from her hair.

Belz said that he did not fire the shot.

He was married last week and he says that someone had been annoying him since peeling his house with stones.

The arrest of William Baldwin of 317 First street Thursday on a warrant charging him with assault to kill, sworn out by his neighbor, Mrs. Mary Bringhurst of 317 Plum street, has excited the neighborhood.

Mrs. Bringhurst was struck a glancing blow on her forehead by a bullet late Monday evening while standing at her window.

It is the statement of William A. Barton, Inspector in the city lighting department, testifying at the inquest of Geo. Belz, who was killed by an electric current Wednesday afternoon at a station of the St. Louis Gas Co., while answering a telephone call.

Someone had thrown a stone through the glass window of the telephone booth, attracted by the noise. The bullet inflicted a slight scalp wound and knocked a bow of ribbon from her hair.

Belz said that he did not fire the shot.

He was married last week and he says that someone had been annoying him since peeling his house with stones.

The arrest of William Baldwin of 317 First street Thursday on a warrant charging him with assault to kill, sworn out by his neighbor, Mrs. Mary Bringhurst of 317 Plum street, has excited the neighborhood.

Mrs.

MYRA, THE ROMANCE OF A SHOE GIRL

BY IVAN WHIN

A story of St. Louis people and places, running exclusively in the Post-Dispatch from Monday to Sunday GUESS THE REAL NAMES OF THE CHARACTERS.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.
Mrs. Lambert, employed in a shoe factory, involved in an automobile accident while riding with Clark Van Pelt, a society man, in the sixteenth Ward. She tries to conceal her identity from Gordon, a working boy. Gordon saves her and her friends rescue her. Van Pelt takes Mrs. de Baliviere, a wealthy young widow, to his office. In the Sixteenth Ward, he and his workers, "and she overhears them plotting against Gordon." She goes up to open the door for Myra to tell her, but Myra is ill at home, and Frank, who has been sent up to open the door for Myra, with Mrs. de Baliviere as a pilot. Near Myra's home, where Van Pelt set up his office, is shown the carriage and Mrs. de Baliviere's face is cut.

CHAPTER V.In the Toils of the Enemy.

MYRA had not vanished from the scheme of Van Pelt's calculations; for all that he avoided the section of the ward in which she lived and ignored the shoe factory employee who formed such an important body of voters.

He heard of her return to the factory and the miscarriage of the attack on Gordon, for notwithstanding the knife wound, that young man was scarcely confined to his bed a day, but accompanied Myra from home to factory and back again each morning and night. Van Pelt was waiting for something to happen, and waited patiently enough.

Mrs. de Baliviere was ill, he was told, when he called, and dally for several weeks he sent her flowers. The gash on her cheek was of far more importance than the knife-thrust in Gordon's side. Van Pelt would have been astonished had he learned that Gordon or Miss Adams, or Mrs. de Baliviere, and that she had gone in her carriage, much miffed and at night to see Myra Lambert.

She had enlisted in the campaign, and she never did things by half. She had employed one of the most astute politicians of the city as the guide and counselor of Gordon, and Barton realized that some force was working in the Sixteenth that he could not trace, but which not only interested Van Pelt's campaign, but his own leadership.

Members of Sheegan's gang, who had long been immune from arrest, were picked up by the police, and Barton found that his pleas for mercy were disregarded, for his henchmen went to the penitentiary with speed. His most reliable lieutenants found trips to Hot Springs and New Orleans necessary to their health and, of course, all they had the money to pay their way.

The plot to beat into invalidism or kill Gordon and his ablest followers, hatched with so much care and detail at Mrs. Grover's had resulted in a few street brawls or no consequence.

It was only three days before the election that summing up the situation he found his hands empty of tools and an honest election in the Sixteenth a probability for the first time in that portion of its history he had known. An old opponent, with whom he had been in the plot, turned to him and laid him on his shoulders.

Mrs. Wiegand was gossiping with a neighbor in the entry to her tenement when he passed one evening and he stopped as was his wont to talk to the woman.

"Is it moving out of the Sixteenth year, Tom?" she asked suddenly.

"Not that I know of. Why?"

"Did ye never see a pasture with the grass all off and another where the grass was just crying to the cattle?"

"What is it, woman, you meant?"

"Nothing, Tom. They tell me Sheegan had only 20 cents over the bar on Saturday night."

They called Mrs. Wiegand "a wise woman," and she knew that her words were very significant. She sometimes told fortunes, and he had a little fear of her. He thought a southern trip might benefit his health, but he had not yet put his hand to the depth in Van Pelt's purse. The end on top of that the "old man," who bossed the city called him into his office one day and said impressively:

"You're losing your hold, Tom. The parties' got to have that ward, and if you can't deliver the goods better men will try it."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I seen you Lun and he's a prince."

He went back into the fight with desperation.

Myra was now entirely recovered from her experiences and became almost the merry girl she had been before Van Pelt crossed her path. The old affection for Gordon had deepened, and they were now planning the wedding that should postpone himself to himself.

It was strange but there had never been a proposal of marriage. They had glided into an acceptance of each other that did not need expression in words. Many a bright spring morning and many a beautiful evening as they walked to and from their work they discussed the future, their home, their income and the most world detail became glorified. Mrs. Lambert and Aunt May accepted him as one of the family and Mr. and Mrs. de Baliviere told Clarence Harrison that she had never read a love story as beautiful as this one she was watching and guarding.

"Girls," said Frank one Saturday afternoon, lets go see old lady Grover. I'm just dying to have her spout old French families and society."

"Tush," said Rose Jennings in affected loquacity, "she isn't so much. I

WHICH WAY IS YOUR BUSINESS DRIFTING?

A GOOD BOOKKEEPER can tell The BEST are obtained within a few hours through POST-DISPATCH "WANTS."

Deaths, Burial Permits, Marriages and Births

DEATHS.

CARDWELL—On Thursday, Jan. 12, 1905, at 11 a.m., Robert Cardwell, beloved father of Thomas, William and Mrs. John Cardwell and Mrs. Helen Storch, Mrs. Mary Storch and Mrs. Helen Storch, aged 81 years, died at her home, 1027 Grand Avenue, on Saturday morning, Jan. 14, from residence of his son-in-law, Feilis Hoffmann, 2446 Queen's Church, near St. Thomas Aquinas' Church, thence to St. Peter and Paul's Cemetery.

BEUCHEL—On Thursday, Jan. 12, after a long illness, Eddie Beuchel, beloved son of Charles Beuchel and daughter of William and August Lamert, and our dear son, Funeral Saturday, Jan. 14, at 2 p.m., from the residence, 1910 Laclede street.

FAHERN—On Thursday, Jan. 12, at 5:30 a.m., Pauline Faber, beloved wife of John E. Fahey, mother of Fred, Herman and Edward, and sister of Mrs. Eliza Giechmann.

Funeral from residence, 2125 South Jefferson avenue, Saturday, Jan. 14, at 2 p.m., private.

FLEMING—Edward J. Fleming, after a brief illness, beloved brother of Julia Fleming, on Thursday, Jan. 12, at 7 a.m., from residence, 112 Blidell street, Saturday, Jan. 14, at 2 p.m., to St. Patrick's Church, thence to Calvary Cemetery.

FLEMING—On Thursday, Jan. 12, 1905, at 4 p.m., Mary A. Fleming, beloved wife of Patrick J. Fleming, and dear mother of Michael, William, Patrick, Lillian, John, James and Martin, Fleming, aged 48 years and 6 months.

Funeral from family residence, 6200 Maple avenue, on Saturday, Jan. 14, at 2 p.m., to All Saints' Church, thence to Calvary cemetery. Friends invited to attend.

PRINK—Caroline G. wife of Seth Prink, aged 59 years, died on Wednesday, Jan. 11, at residence, 2522 Washington avenue, at 2 o'clock p.m., Saturday, Dec. 14. Friends are invited. Interment at Pittsburgh.

WEITSCHKE—Earl West Fritsch, 4182A Courtland avenue, died on Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 10:30 a.m., from a short illness. Funeral Saturday at 1 p.m. from the residence of his grandmother, 5621 Caroline street. Interment private.

HAFNER—On Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 9:30 p.m., Anna Hafner, our dear mother and mother-in-law and grandmother, after a short illness, at the age of 86 years, and 3 months, and 11 days.

Funeral from family residence, No. 1203 Washington, at 2 p.m., from family residence, 5622 Prescott avenue. Friends invited to attend.

HARRIN—Entered into rest on Thursday morning, Jan. 12, after a short illness. Athelene Harris has been interred with her son, Harry, at the age of 26 years, 3 months and 11 days.

Funeral Saturday at 1 p.m. from the residence of his grandmother, 5621 Caroline street. Interment private.

HARRISON—Entered into rest on Friday, Jan. 13, 1905, at 4:30 a.m., Mrs. Bridget Harrison, relict of James Harrison and our dear mother.

Funeral of her from residence, 2144 Franklin avenue, will be given, Ottumwa and Eddyville, Io., papers please copy.

HOPP—Entered into rest on Tuesday, Jan. 11, at 11 a.m., Margaret Hof of three years, in her 86th year, after a short illness.

The funeral will take place from the home of her son, George, 2121 Chippewa street, on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock to St. Anthony's Church, thence to St. Peter and Paul's Cemetery.

HOURIGAN—On Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 10:30 a.m., Patrick Hourigan, aged 68 years.

The funeral will take place Saturday, Jan. 14, at 1:30 o'clock p.m., Broadly, 1818 North Twelfth street, to St. Lawrence O'Toole's Church, thence to Calvary Cemetery. Friends respectfully invited.

KOESTER—Entered into rest on Jan. 12, at 9 a.m., Myrtle Hoy, wife of Edward and William, and Tillie Krieger (nee Tervilman), aged 1 year.

Funeral will take place Saturday, Jan. 14, at 1:30 p.m., from family residence, 2144 Franklin avenue, to St. Peter's Cemetery. Friends respectfully invited.

PAULSEN—Entered into rest on Wednesday, Jan. 12, 1905, at 10:30 p.m., Edward W. Paulsen, dearly beloved brother of Henry C. and Clara Paulsen (nee Nease) and our dear brother and grandson at the age of 86 years and 8 months.

Funeral will take place on Saturday, Jan. 14, 1905, at 1:30 p.m., from family residence, 2108 North Market Avenue, relatives and friends are invited to attend.

PETERSON—Entered into rest on Thursday morning, Jan. 12, 1905, at 11 a.m., Robert Peterson, dearly beloved son of Henry C. and Clara Paulsen (nee Nease) and our dear brother and grandson at the age of 86 years and 8 months.

Funeral will take place on Saturday, Jan. 14, 1905, at 1:30 p.m., from family residence, 2108 North Market Avenue, relatives and friends are invited to attend.

SCHLIEBER—Mrs. Sophie Schliefen at 6:45 this morning, beloved of Julius and Josephine M. Schliefen, aged 79 years of age.

Interment private from residence, No. 100 Madison street, to St. Leo's Church, thence to Calvary Cemetery. Friends respectfully invited.

BARKER—Wanted good barber for Saturday and Sunday; $2.00. Van der Zanden, Park car.

BARKER—Wanted good barber for Saturday and Sunday; $2.00. Van der Zanden, Park car.

Boilermakers and Machinists.—With railroad experience, good wages and steady work; free transportation. Apply room 102 N. 6th st.

BOOKKEEPER—Wanted good bookkeeper; is answering, give age, references and salary expected. Ad. 15 Post-Dispatch.

BOOKKEEPER—Wanted young man as assistant to bookkeeper; good references and state salary wanted; also references and experience. Ad. 15 Post-Dispatch.

BOY—Wanted to work in drug store, Callie and Cheeks. (6)

BOY—Wanted to work in drug store, Callie and Cheeks. (6)

BOY—Wanted good boy for huckster wagon; small boy and wagon. $1.00 per hour. (6)

COOK—Wanted good job—Job provided. Wm. H. O'Brien, 411 Locust st.

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—Wanted good cook; small family; no cooking or wash; $1.00 per day. (6)

COOK—W

HOUSEHOLD GOODS WANTED.

14 Words. 20c.
ABSOLUTELY best prices paid for household goods; contents of houses wanted. Dickson, 2044 Washington; phone Bldg. 812. (8)

ALL kinds of furniture, carpets, stoves, hardware, etc., wanted. Bendersen, 210 Franklin av. Klundt telephone 2150C. (14)

ALL kinds of household goods, pianos, feathers, etc., wanted. We pay cash for what we buy. Wolf, 1421 E. Broadway. Phone A1600. (2)

ALL kinds of household goods; highest prices; personal effects, etc. 1702 Franklin st. Phone B 1641. (14)

ALL kinds of household goods, pianos, feathers, contents of houses, flats, stocks of stores bought. Wolf, 1421 E. Broadway. Phone A1600. (2)

ALL kinds of household goods; highest prices; personal effects, etc. 1702 Franklin st. Phone B 1641. (14)

BEST prices paid for household goods. Phone C666. L. Becker, 1881 Franklin av. (6)

FURNITURE WANTED.—For sale, household goods, furniture, etc. Apply 2201 and Beaumont Av. Western Savings Co., 2004 Morgan. (6)

WANTED—We pay highest prices for household furniture, etc. Apply 2201 and Beaumont Av. Western Savings Co., 2004 Morgan. (6)

Olive, 1215 Olive st. (16)

HOUSEHOLD GOODS FOR SALE.

14 Words. 20c.

FURNITURE, ETC.—For sale, iron beds, springs and mattresses, $100. 1000 comforters, 1000 folding chairs, etc. 1400. Mrs. J. M. Smith, 1400. (10)

ALL kinds of household goods; highest prices; personal effects, etc. 1702 Franklin st. (14)

FURNITURE, ETC.—For sale, furniture, complete, of Cabane Hotel, 2245 Cabane av. 25 rooms, elegant, new goods; bargain to prompt purchase. (8)

FURNITURE, ETC.—For sale, furniture and car-pats of 16-room house; cheap; possession given on or before Feb. 1. Apply 2205 Eugenie st. (14)

FURNITURE, ETC.—For sale, furniture, complete, stock of household goods in everything for stor-age charges; make your own bids. 2644 Franklin st. (14)

MATERIALS.—For sale, cheap, a large Wilson heater. Foster, 616 Washington st. (14)

MOUSEHOLD GOODS.—For sale, household goods, furniture, etc. Apply 2201 and Beaumont Av. Western Savings Co., 2004 Morgan. (6)

IRON BED.—For sale, iron bed, green; springs and mattress; cost $200, will sell for $62.82. (6)

PARLOR SUIT.—For sale; hand-made; good condition; very cheap. Call 1713 Carroll. (6)

RANGE, ETC.—For sale. Quick Meal gas range, sideboard, etc. Call Saturday morning 4049A West End. (6)

RANGE, ETC.—For sale. Quick Meal range, with hot water attachments. 3232 Lacaille av. (6)

STOVE.—For sale, gasoline stove, in good condition; cheap. 4121 Magnolia av. (6)

STOVES.—For sale, cheap, No. 7 Radiant Home. 2115 Page bl. (6)

WEAVING OUTFITS.

And presents in Grand Rapids furniture, parlor cubboards, oak and mahogany tables, fancy chairs and rockers, bookcases, beds, iron beds, rings, etc. All kinds of articles for each room that can not be displayed. Our location enables us to do this. Credit if you want it. (6)

NEW YORK STORAGE CO., 2212 to 2216 West st. (24)

SAVAGE SALE.

$100,000 worth of furnishings from the Indoors are now on sale at one-half their actual value. Sheds and garages, $100. 1000 folding chairs, $10. Pillow slips to match. (6)

Lace curtains, all linen. (6)

Comforts, white cotton. (6)

Blankets, elegant quality, per pair. (6)

Pillows, the feathers, per pair. (6)

Cotton-top mattresses. (6)

Steel devorments, with pads. (6)

Blankets, all sizes. (6)

Iron beds, all sizes, down to. (6)

All kinds of furnishings in proportion. Come early and see our great sale. (6)

WESTERN SALVAGE CO., 2004 Morgan st. (6)

FURNISHED HOUSES AND FLATS FOR SALE.

14 Words. 20c.
IT-Are you safe, fat full of rooms and day boarders; rare chance for lady who is good and has small capital. 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

UNFURNISHED FLAT.—For sale, furniture of 4 or 5 rooms; good; fat cheap; rent low. C. H. 1474 Madison av. (6)

FURNISHED FLAT.—For sale, furniture of 3-room fat room; cost $12. 2210 Cassav. (6)

FURNISHED FLAT.—For sale, furniture of finely finished; good; fat cheap; rent low. C. H. 1474 Madison av. (6)

FURNISHED FLAT.—For sale, 6-room, well furnished; good; fat; rent low; bargain. 2026a Washington. (6)

FURNISHED FLAT.—For sale, furnished 4-room house; good; fat; rent low. C. H. 1474 Madison av. (6)

FURNISHED FLAT.—For sale, for rooms; two complete bedroom suits; iron beds, tables, etc. 1426 N. 10th st. (6)

FURNISHED HOUSE.—For sale, 1607 Pine st.; $75 down, balance $15; extra; large 9 rooms of good furniture; cheap rent; owner likes. (6)

STORAGE AND MOVING.

14 Words. 20c.

ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF STORAGE—New warehouse, Grand and Lacaille; for safekeeping, furniture, pictures, valuable papers, documents, etc. Moving, packing, shipping, etc.; money advanced; get our prices; both telephones. H. U. CONDON AUCTION CO., 2121 1/2 Olive st. (6)

PAINTING.—Wanted, J. N. Hansen & Son packers, glass and brads; a specialty; furniture, pictures, prints, etc. Call 2205. (6)

AMERICAN STORAGE AND MOVING CO., 2018 Olive st. moving, packing, shipping, storage, separate rooms. Tel. Main 2201. W. H. Lange, president. (6)

MOVING.—Wanted, packers, boxes, etc. (6)

RENTED.—Storage, locker & file storage, and moving, 2000 Morgan st. Furn. taken in charge for moving. Phones, Beaumont, 4020. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Knobbe & Price Storage and Moving Co., 2000 Morgan st. Furn. taken in charge for moving. Phones, Beaumont, 4020. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

NOTED.—Warehouse, Henry C. White Storage and Moving Co., 1812 St. Jefferson av. (6)

</div

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN THE MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORLD

UNION PACIFIC CAUSES A GENERAL RALLY

Rise in This Issue on Rumors of an Amicable Settlement of the Northern Securities Litigation Helps the Entire List and the Close Is Strong.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK. Jan. 13.—Irregularly marked the opening of the stock market this morning, with the advancing sharply, while others declined fractionally. The traction stocks were the strongest issues, while Amalgamated Copper was also well taken at a sharp advance. The list in general was quiet and the changes were confined to small movements other way.

London sent over a slightly irregular range of movement in American stocks following the close of the local market yesterday and houses with foreign connections had a strong tendency to follow the lead either on the long or short side in the past week. Foreigners are reported as favorably inclined toward the American market issue, but even in these the buying has been exceedingly light.

The comment in the local press this morning was conservative and this and the Herald's statement that the rate question will be discussed at the next session of Congress will have a tendency to restrict trading. No developments of a character to attract public buying in the foreign market are visible now and the irregular market is looked forward to by the trading element for some time to come. The trading element, however, will get excellent support on all weak spots and unless sentiment has a decided change for the worse, the price of stocks will be held up.

Railroad stocks showed little sympathy with the rise in various stocks in association with the profit taking being made in the fractions of the entire market weakened. Amalgamated Copper, Consolidated Gas, and the Electric Companies 1 and 2, and Pullman 2 points before the reaction commenced. Some of the important eastern and western stocks declined notably in the morning, but the market recovered from the Metropolitan Securities losing 1 1/4 Pacific Mail and Realty also lost a point. Prices were working upward again at 11 o'clock, however, and the cash and call sales which touched 2200.

The banks in their operations with the submarkets continued to make more substantial gains, and the early predictions on the coming bank statement are that it will make a favorable showing. Little change in the market was made in account following the quietness of the securities market the past week, and the cash items showed a fair number of gains, and the cash and call sales are still to be reckoned with in the early future and at present all the available supply in good condition.

MANUFACTURERS.—The market is steady and the cash sales are still to be reckoned with in the early future and at present all the available supply in good condition.

February. It is not likely though that the export market will tend to decline, and the market under its own coin in large amounts begins to go out and until this phase of the money situation develops the market will continue to move upward.

The market of the money market, which touched 2200.

Negotiations are reported as still continuing, but there is no perceptible change factor to some of the local traction issues, but at the present writing the trend is entirely at sea and the market is flat.

And whether the Metropolitan issues are to figure in the deal is a much-mooted question. Traders are afraid to buy or sell this issue, but it is one of the strange and interesting features of the entire market that the Metropolitan Securities can sell at such a ridiculous figure if there is any truth in the rumors in circulation.

The market of the money market, which touched 2200.

The market continued to advance showing a close under the influence of a further rise in Union Pacific and the last prices quoted were 2200 and in all cases sharply higher for the day.

New Illinois Corporations.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TORRINGTON, Conn. Jan. 17.—Hon. G. A. Ladd, a noted spiritualist, discussing his belief in the store of Terry Bass, here, said that if he should die before Mr. Terry, the proprietor, he would make his spiritual remains known by thrice knocking off Mr. Terry's hat.

Half an hour later Mr. Terry's hat was apparently knocked off by someone.

The town is greatly stirred up over the incident. Among the many reports is one that Terry Bass is dead.

Three friends watching the body stepped into an adjoining room. Upon their return they were asked if they had seen that the body had turned slightly upon its side. The body had not been embalmed, as the wife refuses to allow it.

Seeks News of Brother.

The police are trying to locate Martin Concamon, whose brother, B. P. Concamon, sergeant-at-arms of the Royal Guards, died in Paris in 1896, and who is a member of the Grenadier Guards.

At the World's Fair told him that he had made another engagement and had to keep. The returned Grenadier told the London newspaper that an unidentified man had been killed in St. Louis.

The director says Martin Concamon had been found in the street, but the police could not get any information as to his whereabouts.

Officers of Firemen's Fund.

Officers were elected at a meeting of the St. Louis Firemen's Fund Association Thursday afternoon as follows: President, V. M. F. Clegg; Vice-President, L. J. Guitier; Secretary, D. Brumley; Treasurer, Thomas Shea. The following committees were appointed: Ways and Means, George J. Gilford and J. Isaac; Finance, J. D. T. Turner, Jr., and Charles Toussaint; Audit, Thomas Murray, L. J. Guitier, James P. Flanagan, Charles Crowley, H. Clug and John Shea.

DONOVAN COMMISSION CO.

ON THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—Some of the commissioners must have been their wiser today, unless the supply and demand conditions shake up the good oil better than they do now. The stocks seem to make a little more room for supplies or speculation and sentiment is getting a strong bear inclination. That may not be too much about selling, and transactions, but from the present outlook I don't see any good oil in ratios except to act on the possibility of an all right market. During the last month or two the short crop, but during the last half oil facts are necessary to run the market on. These are not in the situation now and they are fully needed in the bulls' business. Cross series are covered, with steel and iron won't have any small crop, which would be shown in the going. It looks as though an offer was being made to weak corn and oats up. If so, then you should be sold. There is not much coming into oil, but not much is wanted in the market and any bull will not set the little demand into motion.

HARRY REED.

Mr. Reed's best employment bureau.

1127 St. Louis employers procure office, factory and other help last week through the Post-Dispatch.

"First in Everything."

BOND DEMAND THE FEATURE

Sales Are Small in These Securities, but Prices Are Daily Advancing.

Reported daily for the Post-Dispatch by Wm. S. Brag & Co., 512 Oliver St., NEW YORK, Jan. 13.

Stocks Open High Low Price

American Car and Foundry 33 1/2 33 1/2 33 1/2

American Smelting 81 1/2 81 1/2 81 1/2

A. G. P. 73 1/2 73 1/2 73 1/2

Amalgamated Gas 73 1/2 73 1/2 73 1/2

Atom. Tobacco 74 1/2 74 1/2 74 1/2

Pacific Gas & Elec. 106 1/2 107 1/2 107 1/2

Rep. Iron and Steel 165 1/2 165 1/2 165 1/2

T. C. I. 70 1/2 70 1/2 70 1/2

S. Leather common 135 1/2 135 1/2 135 1/2

do preferred 91 1/2 91 1/2 91 1/2

do common 80 1/2 80 1/2 80 1/2

do preferred 105 1/2 105 1/2 105 1/2

R. T. & O. 61 1/2 61 1/2 61 1/2

Canadian Pacific 125 1/2 125 1/2 125 1/2

Chicago & Alton common 40 1/2 40 1/2 40 1/2

C. & M. St. P. 22 1/2 22 1/2 22 1/2

Colorado & Southern 22 1/2 22 1/2 22 1/2

Rail. Common 35 1/2 35 1/2 35 1/2 do 1st 30 1/2 30 1/2 30 1/2

do 2d 25 1/2 25 1/2 25 1/2

do 3d 20 1/2 20 1/2 20 1/2

do 4d 15 1/2 15 1/2 15 1/2

do 5d 10 1/2 10 1/2 10 1/2

do 6d 5 1/2 5 1/2 5 1/2

do 7d 3 1/2 3 1/2 3 1/2

do 8d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 9d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 10d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 11d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 12d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 13d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 14d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 15d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 16d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 17d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 18d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 19d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 20d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 21d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 22d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 23d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 24d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 25d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 26d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 27d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 28d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 29d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 30d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 31d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 32d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 33d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 34d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 35d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 36d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 37d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 38d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 39d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 40d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 41d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 42d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 43d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 44d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 45d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 46d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 47d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 48d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 49d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 50d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 51d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 52d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 53d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 54d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 55d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 56d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 57d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 58d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 59d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 60d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 61d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 62d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 63d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 64d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

do 65d 2 1/2 2 1/2 2 1/2

